Remember

When...

It started as a typical day....

When you walk through the door into Northern, you may think of it as a typical day, but do you remember when you entered for the first time? Upon entering you take in the overwhelming and exciting feelings you encounter. You may have thought that this place is where you were going to expand your horizons and figure out exactly where you belong. Your academic record is clean, time to make a change and truly focus on your studies.

Remember going to your first football game? As you approached the steps you looked above and wondered where you could possibly find a spot. Once you squeezed through an open area between your friends you suddenly felt under-dressed compared to the upperclassmen with their ebullient school spirit attire. Homecoming, your first official high school dance, captured by pictures taken by delighted parents who are boastful seeing their child in such glamorous outfits.

Oh, sweet high school, filled with homework, sports, lunches, plays, exams, elections, assemblies, labs, concerts and decisions. Starting out, the possibilities were endless, anything could happen. What you would remember of the next four years was unknown, but one thing was for sure: the day of graduation you would utter the question, "Remember when ..."

1. Shooting the ball into the basket, Lauren Symon ('12) scores on her first try! Participating in the Snow 2010 Games Assembly is really exciting. To be in the obstacle course you have to be quick and accurate.
2. Spreading the spirit, Chelsea Wayne ('11) competes at a cheerleading competition. Chelsea has been on the cheerleading team her whole high school career.

Showing their Husky Pride, Caroline Hall ('10), Parker Branch, and Diane Kurkowski ('10), celebrate at the PH vs. Northern football game.

STUDENT

At Commencement, Devon Fener ('09) and Avery Wine ('09), wait patiently to graduate. Avery was 2009's class president and Devon was class secretary.

Dancing to "Let's Get It Started" by the Black Eyed Peas, these Juniors perform at the Homecoming assembly. The Class of 2011 practiced their dance at lunch for 40 minutes the day of the assembly and received 3rd place for their efforts.

During the Snow Games, the class of 2010 competes in a game of football against the class of 2009. According to Taylor Wasylyk ('10), the class of 2010 "had to use teamwork and discipline to beat the (class of '09)."

Remember When...

Remember when we gathered together to celebrate homecoming week? We dressed up for Hobo day, Formal Dressed day, Tacky Tuesday, Disney Day, and of course Blue and Gold day. Or what about the homecoming Football game where we watched the sophomores dominate the cart race and Danielle Rabine ('10) and Dominic Lewis ('10) get crowned King and Queen? And who can forget the new dance competition and pie eating contest at the assembly? Remember at the dance there was crowd surfing or the music kept going out at the end?

Remember Battle of the Bands? Remember it was the band Almost and Always first Battle of the Bands performance? And remember that City In Ashes won the competition?

Do you remember Jr. Prom, "The Glow of the City"? Remember going to out to dinner beforehand. Do you remember the dance off between Chad Hughes ('10) and Elizabeth Wallace's ('10) date? Or what about all the fun times on the party buses before and after Jr. Prom?

What about Sr. Prom? Do you remember creating masks to wear at the dance? Or what about spending hours and hours preparing to look your best? Remember dancing the night away and having the time of your life?

Remember when you participated in the SNOW games? Did you play in SNOW football, soccer, volleyball or even euchre? Even if you didn't participate in the games, do you remember showing your school spirit during spirit week or what about cheering on your class at the assembly?

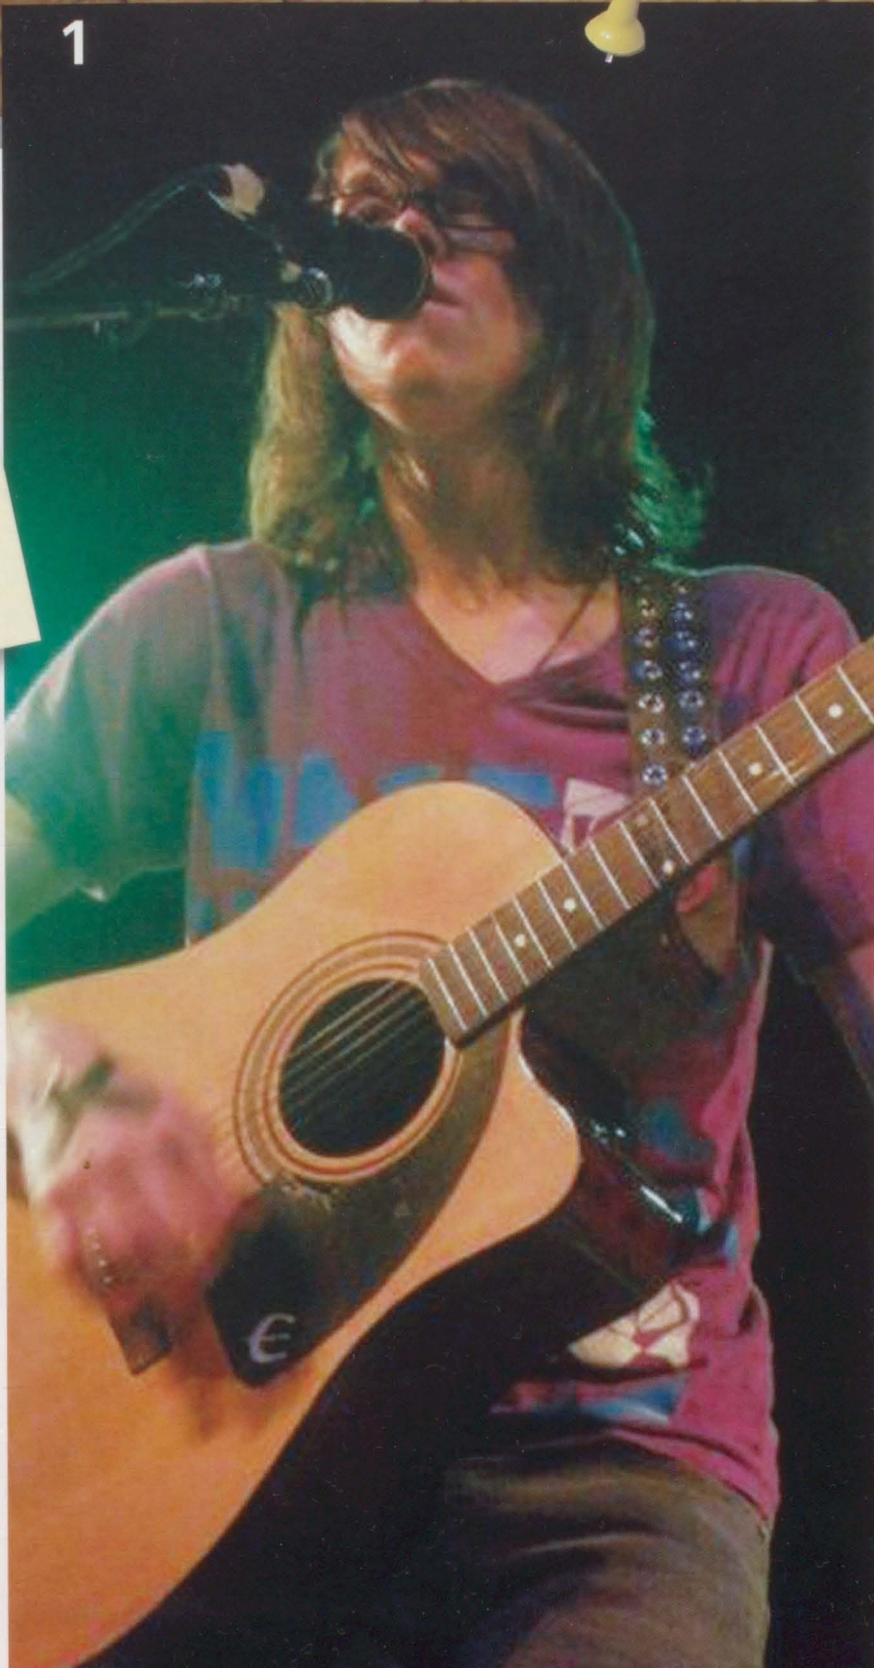

Or what about summer and spring break? Do you remember going on Warped Tour or attending Band Camp? Do you remember hanging out at the beach with friends or what about the unusually cold weather?

Do you remember when the graduates made their grand entrance into the arena, holding their lit candles, and marching to the rhythm of the music? Do you remember the inspirational guest speaker? Remember when they received their diplomas and smiles filled the room?

Lastly, do you remember all the times you shared with your friends, all the memories you made, and all the fun you had?

1. Putting his heart into the song, Nathan Leritz ('10) plays his guitar in Battle of the Bands. Nathan is very musically inclined. He plays guitar, bass, trumpet, and he can sing.

2. Getting pumped up for the PH v. PHN football game, this group of fans attended the tailgate party. They showed their spirit by painting cars, painting bodies, and parading to the game.

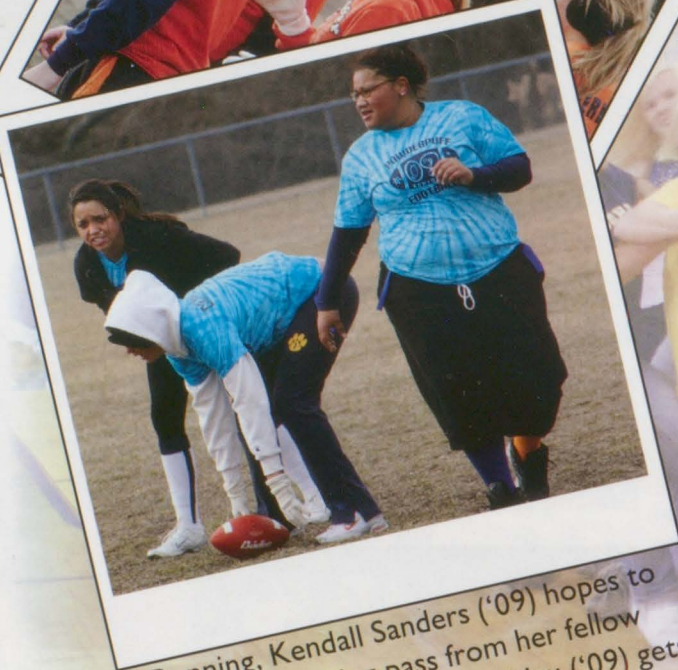

3. Cheering on their class at the Homecoming assembly, the class of 2012 uses all their strength to go against the Juniors. The Juniors won that tug-of-war round, but ultimately the class of 2010 was victorious.

Snow Games

Winter Games

Midwinter break is just about to start, and what better way to kick it off than the Snow Games!! The snow games start off like every other pep assembly with the jump rope, maneuvering around cones, and shooting a basketball at the end, but what every pep assembly doesn't have is wrapping your teacher in toilet paper from head to toe. That's a once a year deal. Your fellow Student Council members also dress the teacher in a scarf, put a carrot in their mouth, and to top it all off put a hat on them. And what do students think about all this well.... Josh Welford ('10) says, "It was a lot of fun!" Taylor Sweeney ('12) stated, "The games were very eventful and exciting!" In addition Holly Todaro ('12) said, "The games were very exciting and not what I was expecting." Sarah Snook ('12) stated, "The games were super intense and competitive."

Running, Kendall Sanders ('09) hopes to receive a winning pass from her fellow team mate. Whitney Dencklau ('09) gets ready to hike the ball.

The Senior Powder Puff Girls pose for the last SNOW game picture. Having an awesome day with their friends is something they will always forget.

Sprinting to the end of the field, Emily Smith ('09) makes a touchdown for her powder puff team. Emily was on the Senior Powder Puff team.

A TEAM of Sisters

Mr. Jamison is holding the rope for the tug-of-war. It's down to the top two competitors Seniors vs Juniors. In the end the Seniors ended up crushing the Juniors.

Face stuffed with a carrot, encased helplessly in toilet paper, Mrs. Reinke, is one of the teachers that have fallen as a victim to the snow games madness. Stephen Gossman ('10), helping to encase her says, "It was a lot of fun."

Huddling together, these 2010 ladies discuss their strategy for beating the class of 2009. These ladies worked hard and had a lot of fun.

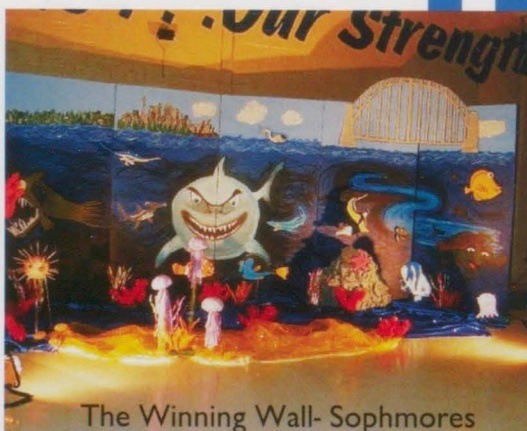

Seniors Chelsea Fullgrapp ('10) and Caroline Hall ('10) worked on the Little Mermaid wall. Chelsea Fullgrapp ('10) comments, "I liked it a lot. I'm glad they brought it back for my senior year."

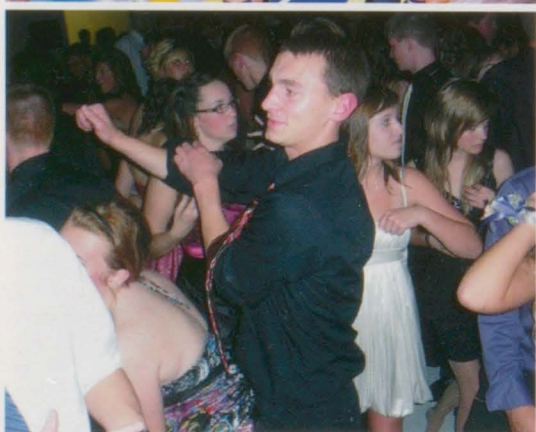

Northern's Homecoming Spirit

Homecoming week is when the entire student body at Northern shows their school spirit by dressing up for spirit week, watching the Pep Assembly, going to the big football game of the year against Fraser, and of course the annual Homecoming dance, all great traditions at Northern. This year for spirit week we had Prom Day, Tacky Tuesday, Disney Day, Hobo Day, and of course Blue and Gold Day! Students really got into character this year. The Assembly has the yearly tug-of-war game, grape toss, and much more. At the Homecoming game, the Homecoming King and Queen were elected and paraded around the football field during half-time. Let's not forget the Homecoming Dance when students go out with their friends, or on a date, and just have a fun night!

HOMECOMING

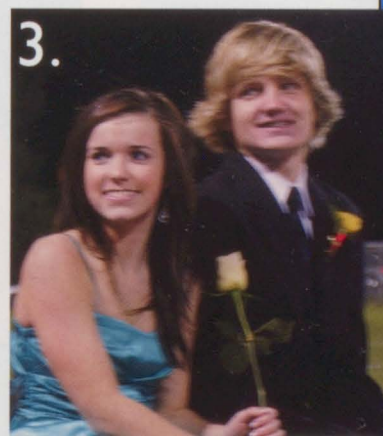

1. Juniors vs. Sophomores at the game of tug-of-war. Andrea Langolf ('11), says, "I really liked watching the dances because it was interesting to see what people came up with."
2. Every Homecoming game Homecoming King and Queen are elected and paraded around the football field during the half-time of the game. This years King and Queen were Dominique Lewis ('10), and Danielle Rabine ('10).
3. Smiling for the crowd at half-time, Nancy Cassidy ('13) and Donovan Barnes ('13) cruise during the half-time show.
4. With pie covering his face, Josh Drouillard ('12) stands up and says, "I like pie!" He's one of the many with great school spirit.

Rocking the electric guitar, Cody Curtis ('10) says, "I just like performing, the PAC is awesome." Cody started playing bass in sixth grade.

"For Every Tuesday" and "As We Speak" are just some of the songs the band "Almost And Always" performed. Max Jusi ('10) sings and plays guitar.

The drummer, Nathan Leritz ('10), from the band "The Atmosphere" thunders through the crowd. This is not the bands first performance; they've also staged at the Hayloft, and the Static Age and Bridges.

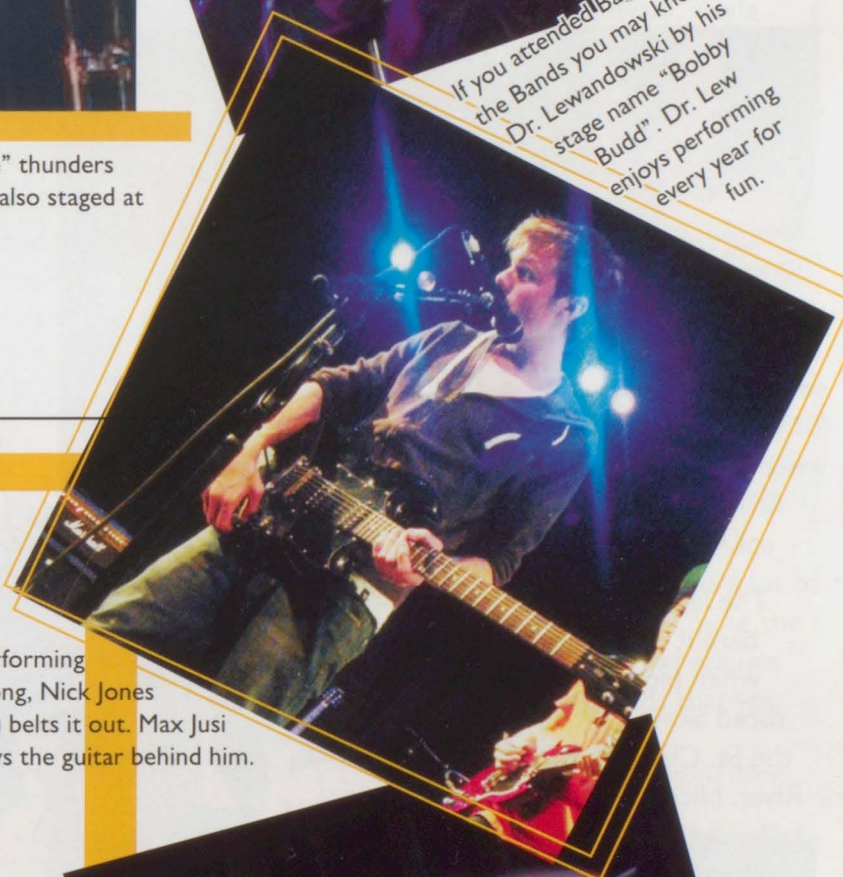

If you attended Battle of the Bands you may know Dr. Lewandowski by his stage name "Bobby Budd". Dr. Lew enjoys performing every year for fun.

Stopping to pose for the camera, Allison McDonald ('10) and her two friends, Sadie Todd ('10) and Teresa Ratajczak ('10) enjoyed a fun night of dancing and hanging out at Junior Prom. Allison says her favorite part of Junior Prom was, "seeing everyone all dressed up."

A Starry Night

Junior Prom is the first prom you'll ever experience. It is the first time you go all out, dress or tux are for sure on your list, some girls get their hair and nails done, and of course the party bus, or limo. Sometimes the place is not always perfect, Brandon Hall ('10) stated, "It was fun, but crowded." Then there is always the best part just having fun with your friends. Caroline Hall ('10) and Alice Erickson ('10) said, "Junior Prom was a lot of fun. Dinner and the party bus was quite the experience." Junior Prom is an experience you'll never forget, or the friends that you shared it with.

Making Memories that Last

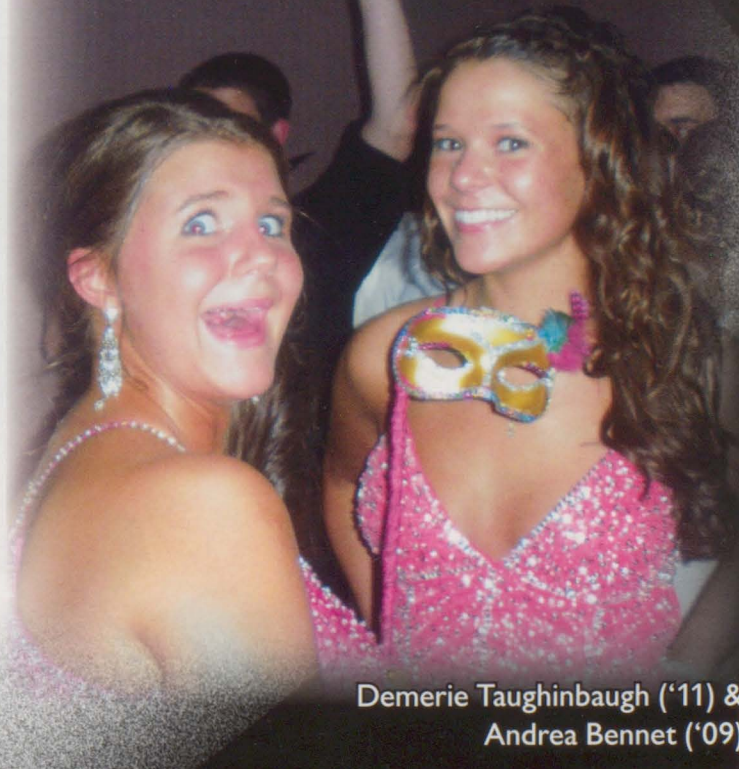

When reaching your senior year one thing that is always on everyone's mind is senior prom. For most girls this is something they have imagined since they were little, and for guys this may be their last chance to get up the courage to ask a girl they have always liked, to the dance. Mary Harwood ('09) remembers her fantastic night saying, "Our group had a lot of fun. We were in a tacky green school bus all night, but it's the people that you're with that make the night what it is... and of course we enjoyed the classiness of our bus all night."

Senior Prom was a night to remember with its masquerade theme, and all the friends who shared the night with you. The students had a few laughs, and cherished one of the last times they would get together and enjoy the night.

GRADUATION

Not the End, but a New Beginning

Graduation, it's the end of the line, the end of it all. What will it be like to be there that final day of high school life? Christina Ostrander ('09) says, "Graduation was exciting for me, but also sad because it was the last time that the entire class was together. Graduation is kind of bittersweet, you are happy because you made it, but sad because you won't see your friends nearly as much." Katrina Pavey's ('09) thoughts of graduation are, "Graduation is not the end, it's the start of a new beginning." In the end graduation is an event we all have to take part in. We may be sad to leave, but we have our whole lives ahead of us, this is just the beginning of our lives. Northern High School was an important chapter in our lives, in which we will carry the memories forever more in our hearts.

Walking to shake hands with Mr. Dahlke, Cody Kimball ('09), prepares to receive his diploma. The gratification of receiving your diploma is one of the most satisfying moments.

"School's out, forever!!" Was just one of the excited cries of the graduated seniors. On the last day of school, the class of 2009 went running out the doors, letting old papers fly, catching up with their friends to march one last time down the hallways, and through the courtyard of Port Huron Northern.

Applauding, these students acknowledge the guest speaker for the inspiring speech. The class of 2009 enjoy seeing all their friends on last time before Commencement.

It's an exciting moment for the seniors to be finished with all thirteen years of school. The seniors march at the commencement, eager to finally receive their diplomas.

Throwing her hands up, and screaming for joy, Meghan Smith ('09), runs through the end of the year Senior Parade with her friends. The parade around the school is one of the last events the seniors participate in before graduation.

President Avery Wine ('09) speaks at the graduation assembly before all her fellow classmates. She talked about the class of '09's accomplishments over the past four years.

Remember When...

Remember when you had to do all those newspoints for POD? Do you remember how you had to get 240 points a marking period and 6 sources? Did you wait until Thursday night to do them?

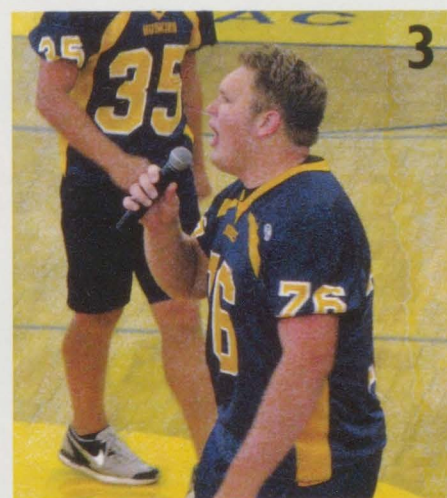

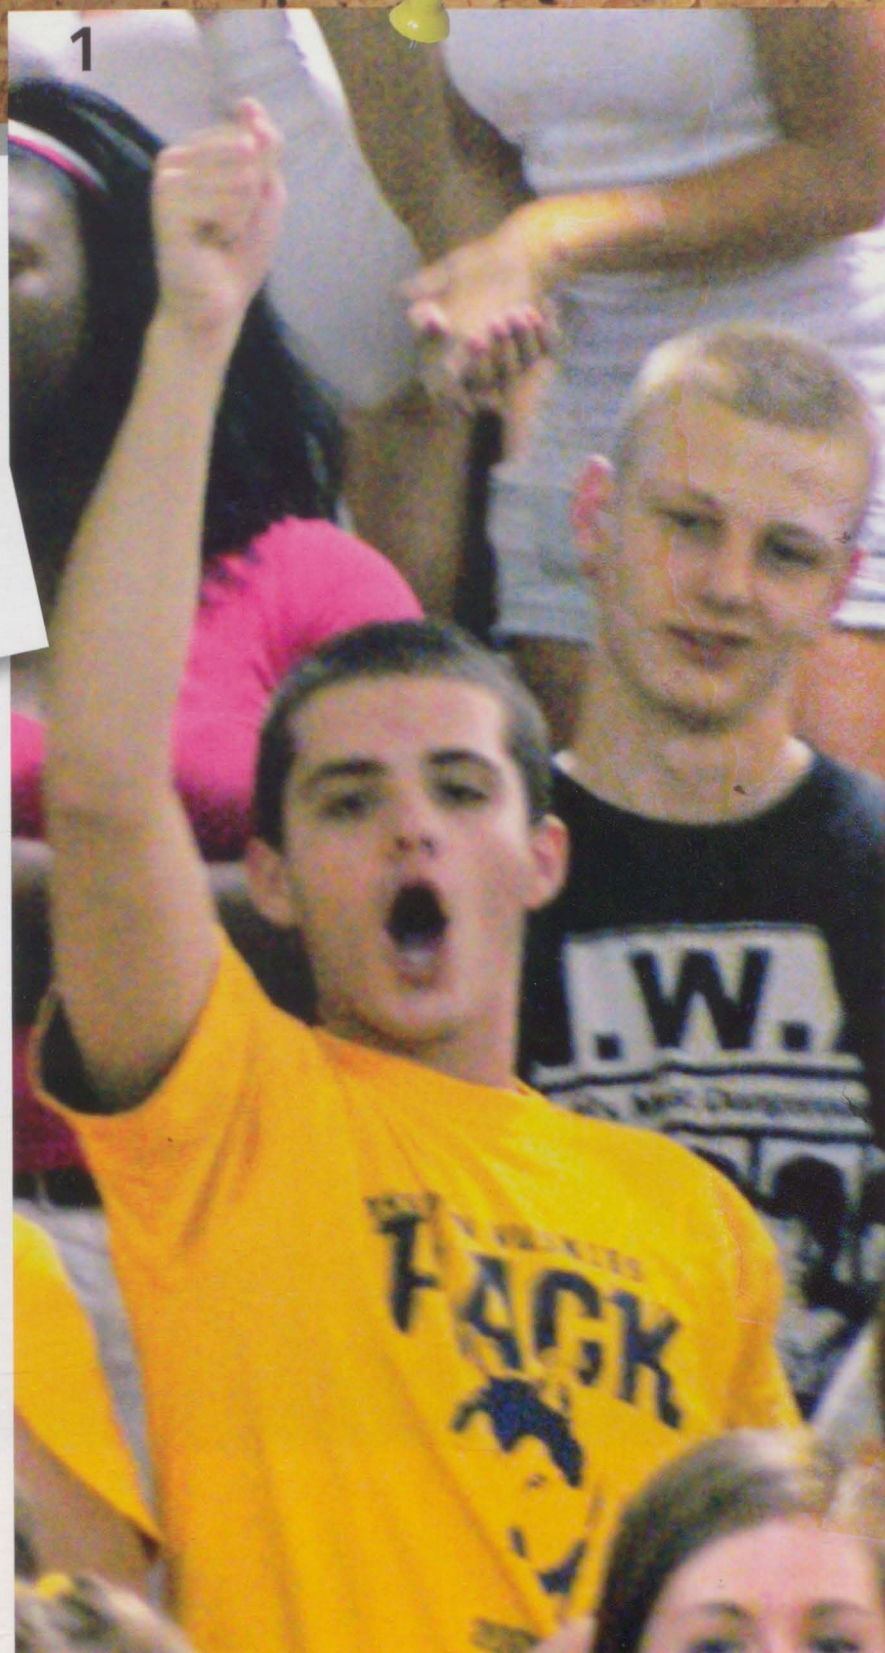

Do you remember when you assembled a portfolio for Portfolio Day? Remember when you had to get all dressed up and presented yourself in front of employers across the area? Do you remember getting interviewed and being critiqued on your portfolio?

Do you remember when you participated in all the Homecoming games assembly? Remember when you worked on the Little Mermaid Wall, or admired its creativeness. Do you remember when you watched the Homecoming King and Queen be crowned? Or do you remember when we won the entire Homecoming week and received the barrel?

Do you remember when you attended Senior Prom? When the theme was cirque du soleil? Remember when you danced the night away?

Remember when you were involved with the SNOW games? Or what about the SNOW assembly you attended? Do you remember when the seniors won SNOW and received the skis?

Lastly, do you remember when you glided across the floor, in front of all your family and friends, and received your diploma?

Last Words to the Class of 2010

"To not be afraid to pursue your dreams no matter how large or far-fetched they may be. Soar away from this town and to become as successful as you can! But don't forget your roots and remember how they influenced you."

Shantell Johnson

"Dear Class of 2010,

The course of our lives is determined by how we react, what we decide, and what we do at the darkest of times. The nature of that response determines a person's true worth and greatness, so be who you are and say what you feel, since those who mind don't matter. Take what you have learned over the past four years at PHN and use it to your advantage! And I wish the very best to each individual in this perfect class of ours!"

"I've been here in Chile for just over three months... and these three months have been amazing. I have never experienced anything like this and wouldn't trade the world for it. I've travelled to Santiago, Valparaiso, Viña del Mar and countless other cities here in Chile, seeing more things and becoming more independent than ever before in my life. Chile has a great deal more stray dogs, there's a group of them always hanging out in the street as I walk to school in the morning, as well as loads more graffiti... it is legitimately everywhere. From dancing relentlessly, to falling in love with avocados, sopaipillas, and manjar, to regressing to using sounds and motions to explain what I want to say, I have laughed cried and grown more than any other time in my life. I'm heading to Argentina, then next to the Patagonia of Chile (glaciers and penguins and such), and after that I'll be backpacking from the mountains to the ocean. Wow I can't believe how fortunate I am to have done this. I wish you all could be here alongside me experiencing this as well. Apart from this there are loads of things I am missing; please have the best senior year that I can't have. With the football games and homecoming and LRT and spirit weeks and driving and the beach and snow on Christmas and Thanksgiving and Prom and Graduation... Live it up. Taylor Wasyk

Have you ever thought about what it would be like to get a full ride scholarship to college for doing something you love? Well, Taylor Wasyk has in fact, done just that.

Taylor received the honors of getting a full ride scholarship to Boston College for hockey. Taylor is a very unique individual; she is the only person from Michigan to be on the National Hockey Team U18, for teens under 18. Not only is she on the U18 team, but she also plays locally with the Little Caesar's team in Detroit. Taylor and her team have had the privilege of going to Minnesota to train with the Olympic hockey team, she thought the trip was, "Fun and exciting, and a great experience."

Taylor also was a part of U18's biggest win, "Last year after Christmas break we went to the World Championships in Germany, and won the Worlds!"

Taylor never imagined that something this good would happen to her, but it has always been a dream, "Well, yeah, I had a hoped, so I really didn't know." Taylor has been playing hockey since she was a little tyke of just two, and by the looks of it, she shows no sign of slowing down. Good luck, Taylor!

'I'll See You Later'

Somehow we've made it through four years. Most of us are dying to get out of here because we think that whatever we plan on doing after leaving Northern is going to change our lives and give us amazing experiences that will be far better than what we had here. Honestly, that might be true, but at the same time, it might not. As much disdain as some of us have for Northern, we have forgotten how many great memories really did come out of these years. The football games, the dances, the friends: none of it can be relived, and I think that a lot of us will realize soon after we've moved past this school. The friends that we've made here really did share some of the best years of our lives and, good times or bad, the best ones have stuck by our side. It's important to remember that sometimes the greatest things in life are not cherished until they're gone, and although some of us will go on to bigger and better things, these years really were the last four care-free years that we had before taking our first steps into the world of adulthood. Try not to take those steps alone. Keep the friends you've grown to know and love during your childhood, and don't make yourself say goodbye. Someone once told me that to say 'bye' to someone you care about is never a correct statement because when you care about each other, you're going to see them again. So, if anything, try not to say goodbye to Northern and all of the people you've grown so close to. Say 'I'll see you later' or 'talk to you soon' because chances are that's the more correct statement. I truly hope that every member of our class achieves all that they can in life, but also do their best not to forget the people who were with them from the very beginning. To the Class of 2010 and all of PHN, I hope to see you again at some point in the future when you've received all of the great things that you strive for today. Be thankful for what you have in life, and keep your friends close because, even on your worst day, they are the ones who will always be there for you.

Sincerely,
Mitchell Johnston

STAFF & UND

With smiles on their faces, carnations in their hands, the Freshman Homecoming court poses with accomplishment.

Gathering to socialize after eating lunch, this group smiles for a picture! Lunchtime is the best time for socializing.

Preparing to attend the Homecoming dance, the sophomore girls smile for a photo! The girls went to Quay Street Brewery after pictures, and then headed to dance the night away.

Remember When...

Remember when you first walked in these Northern doors as a freshman, and the school was so much bigger than middle school that you thought you would get lost? Or do you remember not knowing where your next class was, that you scrambled looking for a friend who could help.

Remember being in the stands, cheering for your class to do their best, to win the tug of war, the pie eating contest or even the grape toss?

Do you remember taking drivers training? Or remember your first time behind the wheel by yourself, when you finally had your license? Do you remember feeling excited, free, or maybe a little nervous?

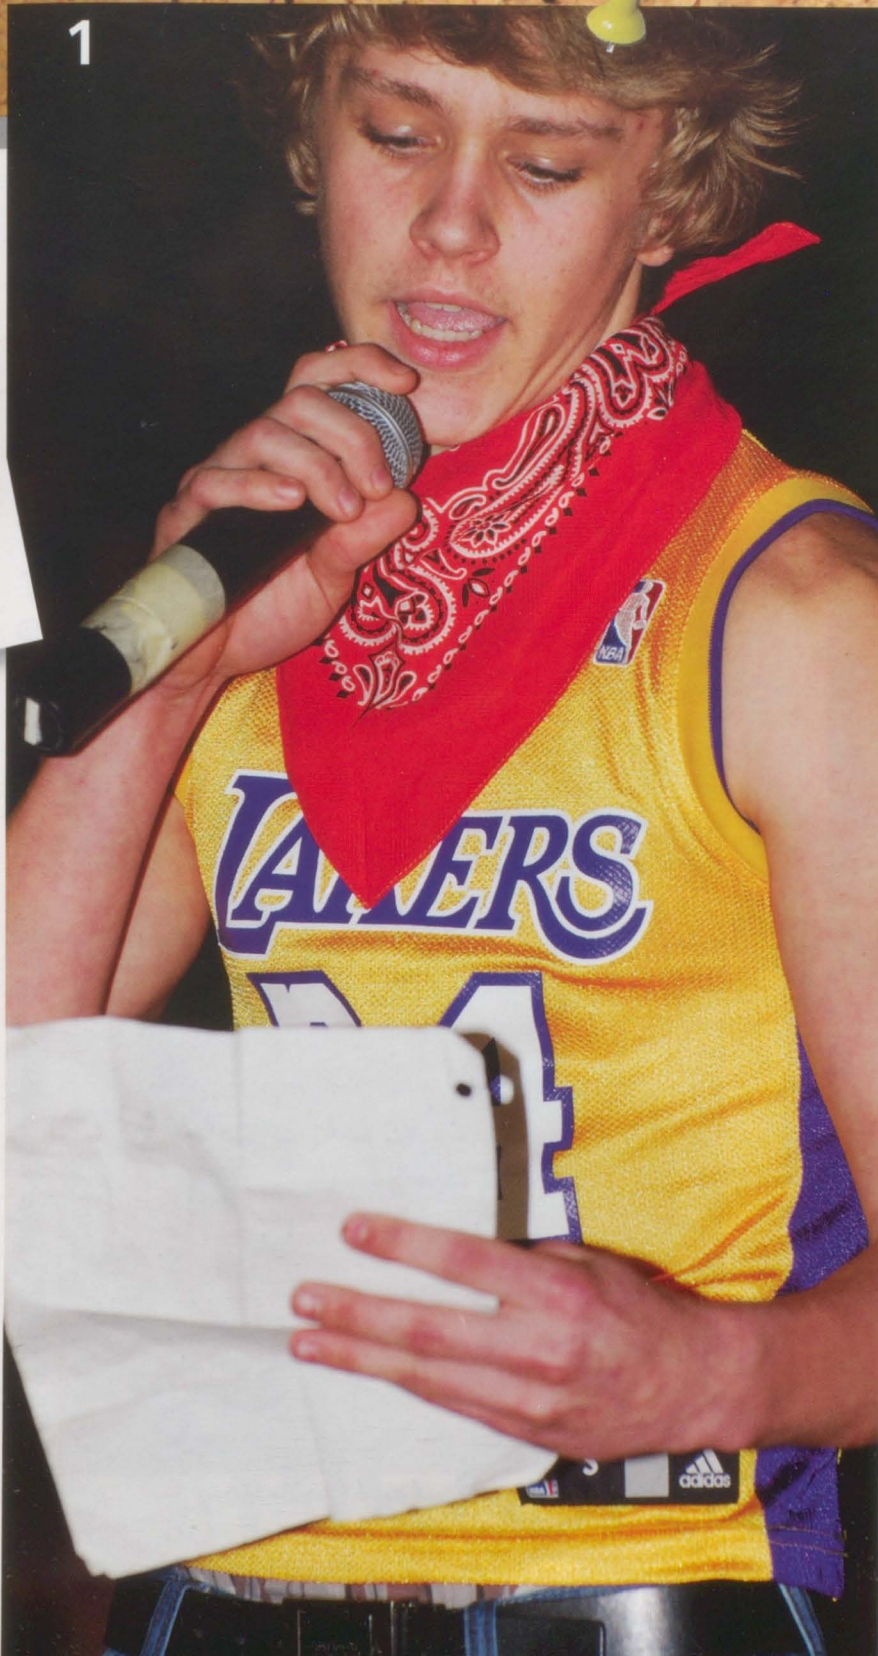

Or do you remember exam week? As a freshman, you were studying for your first ever exams. Were you one who crammed the night before the exam and during the break between them? Or did you start studying weeks in advance so you would be sure to pass them?

Remember taking the ACT and the MME? Hearing all the directions repeated every time you opened your booklet, and listening to the teachers stress how important the tests really are? Remember sitting for hours, choosing the best answer to each question, and guessing because you ran out of time?

Do you remember the many laughs, huge smiles, and crazy times you had with your friends as an underclassman? Remember the good times you had at lunch, in class, in between classes, at sport events, and at dances?

Lastly, do you remember counting down the days to summer vacation, or anxiously awaiting your senior year?

behind the scenes

1. Monitoring the halls, Mary Click (right), asks some students where they are headed. Mary has a blue line in the hallway that students must stand behind until the bell rings. 2. Taking time out from his important job, Dave Dennis, smiles for the camera. Dave said his favorite part about his job is, "I love being here." 3. Amidst the cafeteria racket, Steve Dennis takes a moment to talk to Zachery Weiss ('11), Haily Wentz ('11) and Brad Hall ('10). Steve cares a lot about how students are doing and what is going on. 4. Working at the lunch stand, Lynne Herbert tells a student her lunch bill. Lynne has worked here for fifteen years. 5. Taking a moment from her job, Mary Click, steps away from monitoring the hallway. Mary loves, "getting to know everybody." 6. Smiling for the camera, Amy Nelson, pauses for a quick snapshot. Amy has been doing her job for one year. 7. Ringing up someone's lunch, Mary Kurkowski stands behind the counter in the lunch line. Mary enjoys her job at the school very much. 8. Amidst the cafeteria racket, Steve Dennis shows his enthusiasm for lunchtime. You may have not known this, but in fact, Dave Dennis is Steve's brother! 9. Having a quick discussion, Mary Click (left) and Lisa Duman (right) chat in the hallway. Mary and Lisa can always be seen with their walkie-talkies.

Lunch and Janitorial Staff

They are here everyday at school. They keep the school clean and help students and teachers with lunch. Who are they? The Lunch and Janitorial staff! They work at the school for all different reasons. "My favorite thing about volunteering here is just knowing the kids that go here and i know a lot of the teachers. It's a social interaction," says Jack. "I really enjoy being around young adults," says Lynne Herbert, a lunch lady, in agreement. She has been serving here since 1993. It is a widespread agreement that these individuals deserve student appreciation and respect. Unfortunately this is not always the case. "If i could change one thing about the students it would be attitude because good attitudes make everything nicer," says Mary Click, a hall monitor. She is well known for her "blue line". this is the line she has students stand behind during the end of the lunch hour so other classes are not disturbed. She is well liked by most students. We should all put more thought and effort into the way we treat the staff because they are always willing to lend a helping hand to us. Where would we be without them?

By: Gabrielle Armstrong

Q: What is one piece of advice for students?
A: Follow the rules! It's a life skill.

Q: What is the toughest part of your job as a hall monitor?
A: Definatly disrespectful students!

Q: What makes your job easier?
A: Nice respectful students with

Hands-on Learning

Have you ever thought about your schooling? Most schools do the same thing day after day... sit in a classroom, listen to lectures, and take notes. We learn in the same environment every-day. What if it wasn't? What if it was all hands-on? For two years of his life Adam Ottowitz did just that. "My stepdad is in the Coast Guard and was stationed in Alaska," Adam informs. In Alaska most of his schooling was done by visual and hands-on learning.

"I thought it was interesting and helpful. I remember everything I learned," he says. When asked what his favorite experience was he answered, "My favorite and most memorable trip was a four day camping trip we did to learn about nature and survival of the fittest," Adam has had many unique experiences. Most of us will never get to enjoy the type of schooling Adam has. With such unique and interesting experiences comes a very unique and interesting person.

How does being a sophomore compare with being a freshman?

Benjamin Moore "Well now I can get in the lunch line in front of freshman, and I feel more confident in the hallways."

Evan Timm "It's not much different. I have more seniors as friends this year than last, but its pretty much the same."

Malcolm Kramp "If there is anything I've learned it's that things get better with time. Sophomore year is way better than freshman year. I mean, when your a sophomore you know more people, you know the school, and you know the way things work."

He Says

Meagan Prax "You know the layout of the school a lot better and you have a solid group of friends."

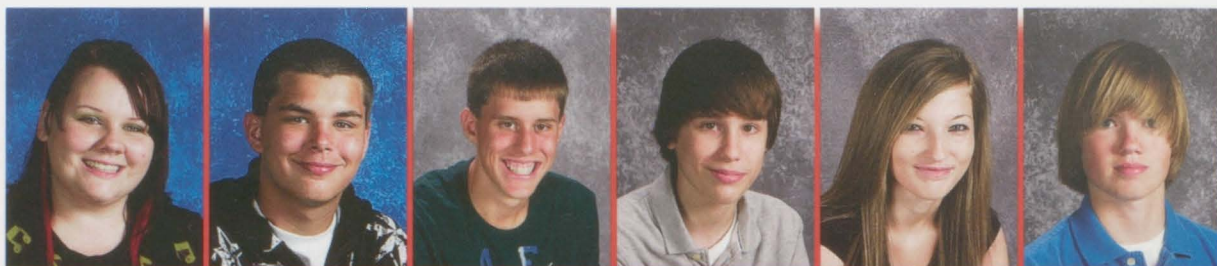

Sarah Haight "There's definitely more work, but it's a lot more fun! There is also a lot more opportunities and activities open to us."

Cheyenne LePoires "Sophomore year is much more relaxed; for one thing you don't have to worry about being hated and it's just better."

Meeting Goals

Imagine you are in an ice rink and there are five seconds left in the fourth quarter. The score is tied 9-9 and if your team scores, you will win the championship. You skate up to the net, your teammate passes the puck, you shoot, you score! Sydney Brickey ('12) has been playing hockey since she was eight years old. Her dad and grandpa were the ones who first sparked her interest. She plays for Little Ceseur's all the way in Detroit, making it difficult to balance hockey and school work. "It's hard, I do my homework on the hour and a half car ride there and the hour and a half back," says Sydney. She puts in twelve hours a week. "My goal for now is to play in college," she says. "It would be fun to play as a professional, too!" she adds. Sydney is well on her way to meeting her goal.

Peanut Butter on the Court

"I started playing sports when i was in 4th grade; i played in sports year round participating in basketball, volleyball, cheerleading, and track."

Meagan Prax ('12) is a sports fanatic. while in the middle school Meagan's coach nicknamed her "peanut butter" because of her aggressiveness on the court and her small size. One of Meagan's fondest memories was from track. "I was in 4th grade , I ran the mile, and beat most of the 8th graders i was competing against 8th graders earning a second place ribbon. Dispite her luck in track Meagan's favorite sport is basketball. She has attended basketball camp for five years. She has played both freshman and jv and hopes to make varsity next year.

Skating Her Way to the Winner's Circle

Have you met Kirsten Kelly? some people know her by her polite motherly disposition, but many know her from her figure skating. Kirsten has been figure skating since she was three. These twelve years of experience has enabled her to do a double flip which is a jump consisting of two revolutions in the air. "I have made great friends and it's something that will always be a part of me," she says. Along with being in the school figure skating club she's also in the Port Huron Figure Skating Club.

Teachers

We all know that the staff is a huge part of Port Huron Northern. They all bring something new and special to this school. With their own versions of teaching, each teacher is unique. From teachers with many years of experience to brand new teachers with brand new ideas, all are important. "I have been teaching for 35 years," Dr. Lewandowski informs. Though all teachers are different they all have one thing in common. "I love my job!" exclaims Mr. Schneider. All members of the staff love their students.

1. Ready with a smile, Mr. Labelle relaxes during his lunch. He is the only French teacher here at Northern.
2. Preparing for her next class, Mrs. Goodmen organizes her desk. She is very focused on helping all of her students.
3. Setting up a lab for her students, Mrs. Gostinger always helps with a smile. Mrs. Gostinger is known for going to great lengths to help her students succeed.

Do You Know the Muffin Man?

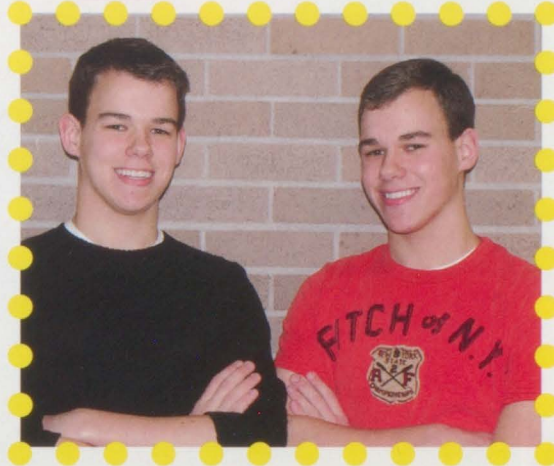

Chocolate or Blueberry?

We all know the popular children's poem about a certain man living on Drury Lane who makes the best muffins. We are lucky enough to have our very own muffin man, or should we say muffin people, right down the hall. The special education program is well known for the delicious muffins they serve to the students. "We have always made muffins, but Mrs. Houle started the actual buisness," Barbara Hill, a teacher, says. "Half of the profits from the muffins goes to Haiti because they need it the most, but the rest pays for any special activities like lunch or field trips or paying for lunch if a kid forgets theirs," she says when asked about the profits. The muffins draw quite a crowd every Tuesday and Thursday and their delicious scent finds its way to every nose in the school. "I love when the kids come in and their alll excited," she adds.

1. Smiling, Amberlynn Stevens (12) enjoys her muffin.
2. Taking the muffins out of the oven, this teacher looks up with a smile.
3. Happy to enjoy a delicious snack, these students inspect their muffins.
4. Standing proudly with their wares, these students are eager and ready to sell them and donate the profits to Hati.

SEEING DOUBLE

Twins

Walking down the halls between classes you may find yourself looking at what you would think was the same person you had just seen walking in the opposite direction moments before. However, you have just come across one of Northern's sets of twins. With a total number of 9 sets of twins we have a high population of these students. "But having a twin at the school is just like having any other person at school. It doesn't really affect me," Brandon Johnston ('10) says. It is said that when there is a set of twins in a family there is more likely to be more. "No," Bryan and Micheal Brooks answer. "We're the only ones!" Bryan adds. Twins seem to always attract interest, and this school is no exception.

1. Posing for a quick shot Brandon and Mitchell Johnston ('10) flash bright smiles. They are seniors this year.
2. Maria and Olivia Souphis ('11) are frequently mistaken for the other. They play basketball and volleyball.
3. Jackie and Laura Richert ('11) are one of school's pairs of fraternal twins. They are on the girls' golf team together.

Rodger Adolph

"Mr. Adolph always knew what it took to put a smile on my face, even in the toughest times."

- Angie Sparling

"He was a coach to some but a friend to all."

- Olivia Souphis

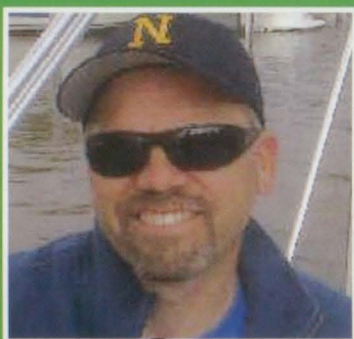

"Coach Adolph was always very encouraging and a great volleyball coach." - Kristi Koppinger

"He was the kind of teacher who did everything he could to help me succeed. He never gave up on his students."

-Nick Wedyke

"Coach Adolph was very knowledgeable and passionate. Not just about volleyball, but everything he did." - Holly Eschenburg

"Whenever I play volleyball, I think of him - Especially when it comes down to a tough game. He would be very proud of our Marysville win!" - Chantelle Randall

December 9, 1961- September 3, 2009

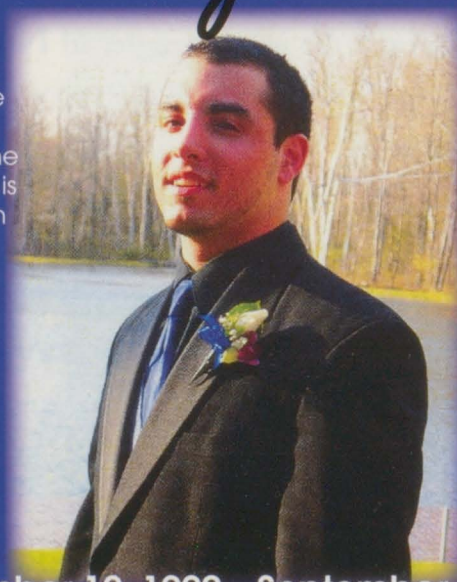

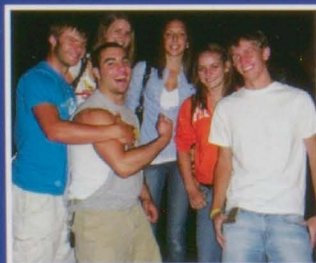

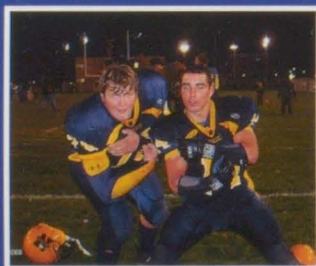

Rodger Adolph was an inspirational and loving teacher, coach, friend, and husband. He was the kind of person who always had a smile on his face and would lend a hand whenever he had the opportunity to. Mr. Adolph was a compassionate teacher and coach that taught from the heart.

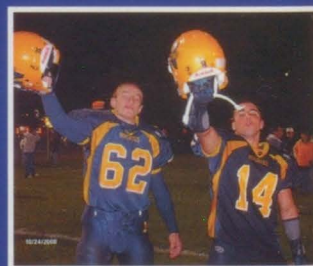

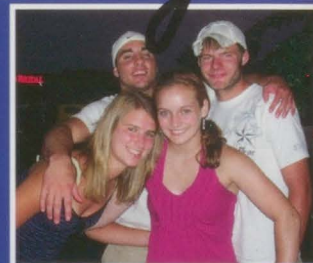

In Loving Memory

"Aaron made me laugh and smile more than anyone else ever has; he is the true definition of a friend." - Angie Sparling

"Aaron could always make any situation fun. He knew how to have fun and live life to the fullest." - Kristen Nuss

December 12, 1990 - September 10, 2009

Aaron David was the type of person who could make anyone laugh and smile. He was a compassionate athlete and honorable friend. His sense of humor along with his bright personality brought happiness to everyone. Aaron will always be remembered in our hearts forever and his memorable character will always continue to shine!

"PHN is the school of the champions!"
-Mrs. Gostinger

Has anyone else noticed an unidentified boost in school spirit? That boost is about to be identified. It is due to an increased amount of husky pride coming from the staff! "Participation makes me want to go to the games and cheer on the teams. It makes me proud to be a husky." Mrs. Gostinger said when asked about the effect of school spirit on her.

The most prominent place that spirit is shown is at the assemblies. "My favorite part of assemblies is when the students (choir) sing. I love to hear the songs," Dr. Jamison says. The staff has tripled their participation this year...can the students keep up?

4. Encouraging a fellow staff member, Mr. Palmer, gives a high five.
5. Clapping to the beat, Mr. Cook and Mrs. Vandyke show husky pride. Games assemblies are a great way to get students hyped up.

ACAD

Diligently taking notes, Courtney Yensen ('13), focuses on a math problem. In math, it is necessary to pay attention so that you do not get behind.

Listening carefully, James Cesaro ('10), gives all his attention to the Freedom Writers. The Freedom Writers told their story, and also gave an opportunity for P.O.D. students to receive newspoints.

Remember When...

Remember when you woke up early in the morning to get to school by 7:37 a.m.?

Do you remember learning about the Pythagorean Theorem, area of circles, and volume of cylinders? Or what about limits, integrals and derivatives? Do you remember calculating probability? Remember memorizing the trig functions (sin, cos, tan, cot, csc, sec)?

Remember dissecting grasshoppers, pigs, and frogs in biology and anatomy? Do you remember learning about the Earth and the human body? Or what about celebrating Mole Day? Do you remember doing all those experiments in the chemistry lab that had to do with the Bunsen burners or chemicals? Remember when you built a mousetrap car, calculated force and velocity and learned about vectors?

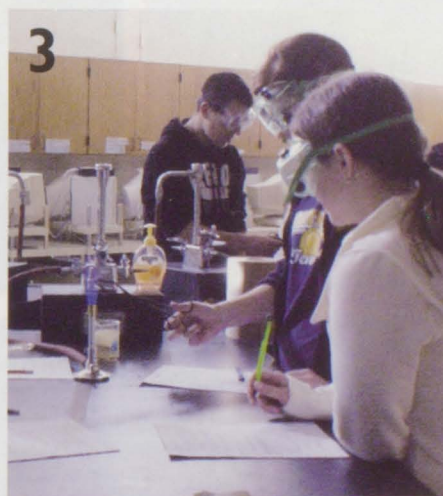

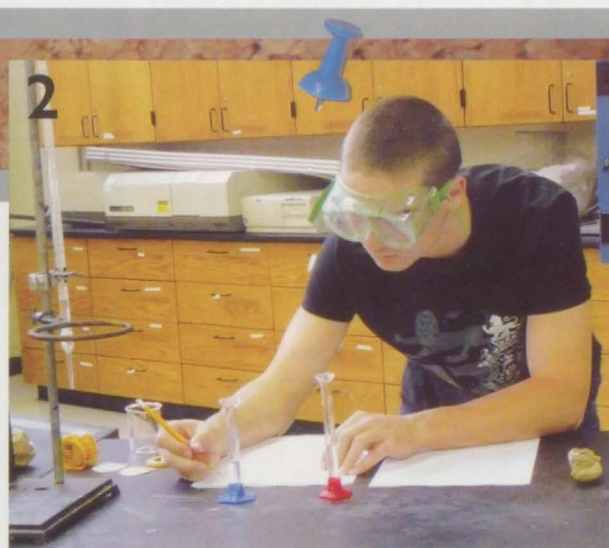

Do you remember learning about the history of the United States, learning about the various presidents and wars? Remember learning about the World from BCE to the present? Or what about learning the Geography of the Earth? Do you remember doing all those newspoints for P.O.D.?

What about when you read books such as Romeo and Juliet, The Odyssey, Othello, Fahrenheit 451, and Night and had vocabulary quizzes? Do you remember doing novel reports and writing essays?

Remember running the perimeter in gym, studying different languages and cultures, and expressing yourself in art?

Remember seeing your friends in class, working on group projects, and socializing when you shouldn't have been? Remember when you sat impatiently in your desk at the end of the day, counting down the seconds until the bell would ring at 2:20 p.m.?

1. Presenting his novel, Ryan Sleziński ('10), explains to the class his take on the theme and symbolism in the novel. Ryan and his partner, Karl Sta Cruz ('10), spent weeks finishing the novel portfolio, and spent time preparing for the presentation.
2. Accurately calculating, Alex Nelson ('11), records precise measurements. It is important to keep and make exact measurements while working with chemicals.
3. Testing different compounds, this lab group watches for the different colored flames the compounds will produce. Overall, chemistry students said this was a very interesting lab.

NUMB3RS galore!

As Mr. Cook explains FOIL on the Interwright Learning Pad, the students listen attentively. FOIL (First, Outside, Inside, Last) refers to a technique to multiply binomials. It is a very important concept for students to grasp so that they are able to combine two functions. FOIL is used in most all high school math courses.

Raising her hand before finishing the problem, Megan Salgado ('11), is sure she has the problem correct! The class of 2011 is the first class to have the math standards raised from 3 years to 4 years.

Step1: Add 18 to your birth month.

Step2: Multiply by 25.

Step3: Subtract 333.

Step4: Multiply by 8.

Step5: Subtract 554.

Step6: Divide by 2.

Step7: Add your birth date.

Step8: Multiply by 5.

Step9: Add 692.

Step10: Multiply by 20.

Step11: Add only the last two digits of your birth year.

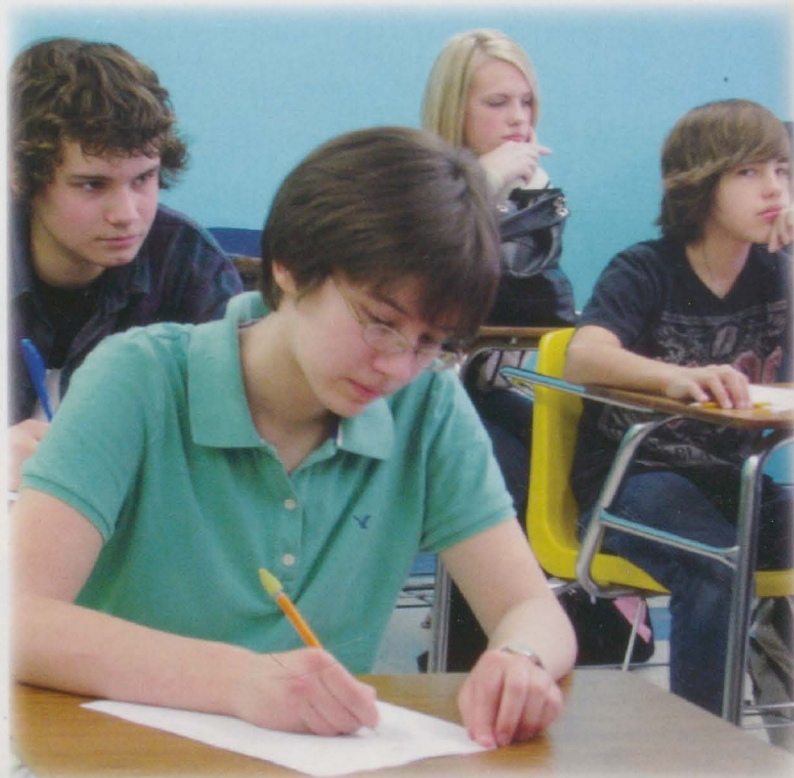

Step12: Subtract 32940 to get your birthday!

Example: If the answer is 123199 means that you were born on December 31, 1999.

Paying attention to their teacher, this group of students listens to the lesson being taught. Many different math courses are offered for students.

Diligently taking notes, Gabrielle Brown ('13) writes down what her teacher, Mrs. Sears, is illustrating. Taking notes is a very efficient way to learn new material.

Dress to Impress

First job interviews can be nerve wracking situations. That is why the Government class offers this great opportunity for seniors to get that first experience with out an actual job on the line. Ken Kobberstad ('10) says, "It was fun to gain some interviewing experience." On Portfolio Day, students meet with professionals from the Blue Water Area. They can be anyone from a Financial Advisor to a Radio show host. The interviewers look over the student's resume, references, etc., and give them constructive criticism on what they can do to make themselves more appealing to employers.

Portfolio Day

November 19, 2009

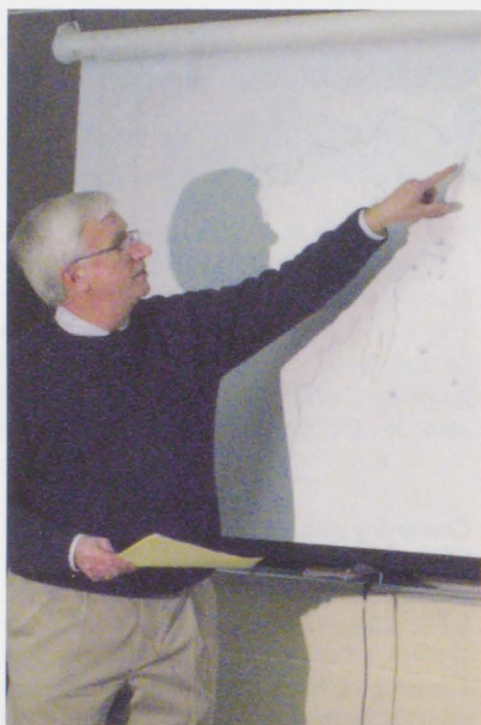

Conferring with Ben Cobern, Kevin Jackson ('10) laughs at a joke. Government students had to create a cover letter, resume, and a list of references for this project.

Listening to what their interviewers have to say, Christopher Cavazos ('10) and Amy Meddaugh ('10) take in constructive advice. Students were required to have two letters of recommendation for their portfolio.

Preparing for their interview, a group of seniors look over their portfolios to make sure they are perfect. Putting together a portfolio takes a lot of effort, but the end result could possibly be very rewarding.

Sitting down for her interview, Caetlan James ('10) shakes hands with the Port Huron Fire Department Captain. The interview was worth a large portion of the overall portfolio grade.

Pointing to St. Ignace, Mr. Artman (a retired teacher of Port Huron Northern) explains that Ernest Hemingway used to travel to North-western Michigan during his summers for vacations. Ernest Hemingway includes many references to Michigan in his books. Mr. Artman came in for two days to teach the A.P. Literature students more about Hemingway.

Telling the class about the book they read for the semester project, Michael Brooks ('10), Ryan Slezinski ('10), and Karl Sta Cruz ('10) give an overview of the plot. Each presentation given by the students had to be at least three minutes long, but no longer than five minutes.

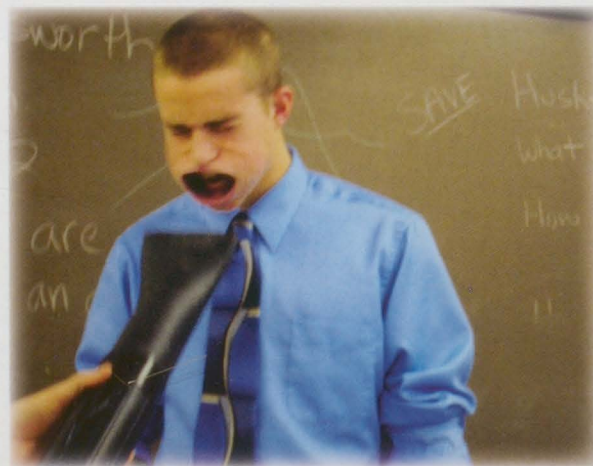

Enlightening her fellow classmates, Amy Meddaugh ('10) explains the connections of the main characters in the book she read, Light in August. For the semester project students were allowed to work in pairs, but some chose to do the assignment by themselves.

“ I really enjoy literature because it's a great artistic way to freely express yourself and to relate to other thoughts and ideas on life. ”

HEALTH

Taking a blow to the face, Ian Markie ('10), participates in Mr. Farnsworth's leaf blower activity. Ian is actually in ELA 12, but Mr. Farnsworth offered it to this class as a fun icebreaker.

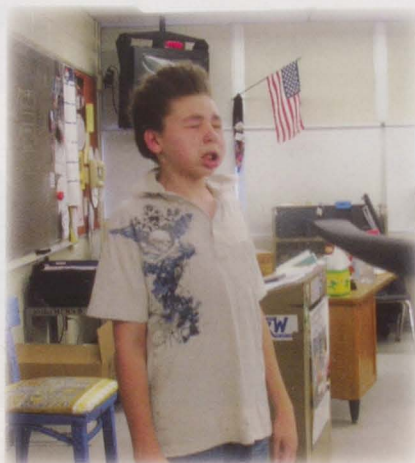

Quietly reading her book, Brandy Edmondson ('12) loses herself in the novel. Several students enjoy Novel Day because it gives them chance to either read for their novel assignment or just read for pleasure and forget about the stresses that school can sometimes inflict.

Concentrating on the movie being shown to the class by his teacher Ms. Nielsen, Todd Woodley ('12) pays close attention. These students are watching The Odyssey. Many teachers choose to show the film before reading the epic poem because some of the language makes it difficult to comprehend what is truly happening in the story.

Photos By: Christy Cuthbertson, Eric Merrill, and Alyssa Simpson

His hair blown back, Chris Patrick ('14), struggles to open his eyes. This activity is a great icebreaker and sets the mood for the class: FUN!

Indulging himself in the leaf blower activity, Zach Szkudniewski ('12) stands up in front of his fourth hour Health class. Mr. Farnsworth has students join in on the fun to allow them to be more at ease in the class and encourage students to never skip out on opportunities in life.

Holy Moly

Showing off his mole, "Greek Molthology," Nick Reed ('12) pauses for a quick shot. His mole took around one and a half hours to complete.

Choo Choo! The Molar Express is in town! "I loved mole day, it was very fun to get in to, and it was a fun and enjoyable learning experience," says Kristi Duty ('12). Mole day is a day that represents the expression 6.02×10^{23} (one mole). Chemistry students made shirts, stuffed moles, and brought food to celebrate the day.

On the other hand, some students do not feel the same about mole day. When asked if she feels Mole Day is a waste of time, Lauren Hart ('11) stated, "Yes, because if we already know the information then why do we have to have a day dedicated to it?"

Whichever way you feel, many people LOVE mole day and really get into the spirit of it!

Chemistry class was preparing buffers and measuring buffer capacity.

Go, Speedracer, Go!

1. Cheering on his mousetrap car, Josh Wolford ('10) hopes his car will reach the finish line. Josh met the distance requirement and received an "A" on the project.

2. Examining their cars, Eric Meyers ('10) and Nickolaus Geistert ('11) put the final touches on their cars to make them the best they can be. Many students had to make adjustments once they saw how their cars functioned on the school floors.

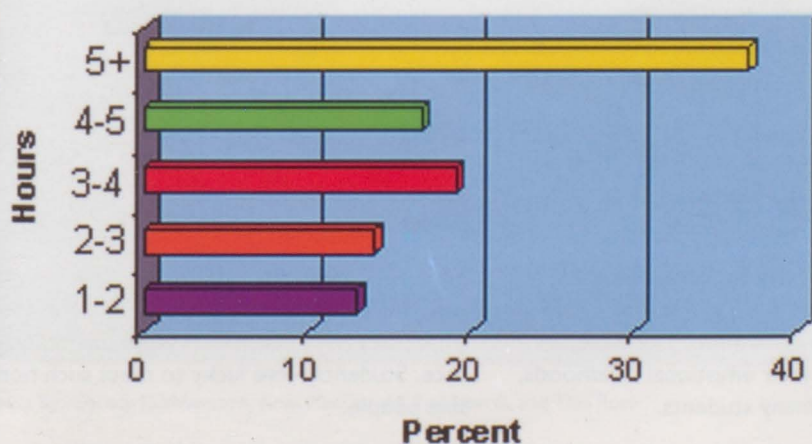

3. Throwing out her arms in frustration, Shawn Drulia ('10) winces as her car almost makes the 6 meter requirement. The majority of cars were very close to the 6 meter mark.

4. Comparing their building techniques, Alex Porrett ('10) and Austin Pickering ('11) discuss their cars' differences and similarities. Both cars were proficient and successful.

5. Setting up their cars for the distance competition, the 6th hour Physics class gets ready to let them go. If your car went the furthest, then you received extra credit.

6. Smiling with relief, Bryan Brooks ('10) walks to pick up his mousetrap car that finally crossed the 6 meter mark. Many students had to try numerous times to accomplish the 6 meters.

How much time did you spend on your Mousetrap Car?

A Culture Enlightening Experience

Mrs. Erin Gruwell. The name of the teacher who has changed the lives of underprivileged students in Long Beach, California. They came from a world ruled by violence, and she turned it into a class lesson. Darius Garrett and Tony Becerra were a part of her class, and students at Northern were lucky enough to listen to them speak about their lives and how Mrs. Gruwell changed them. "It was a really good time. The Freedom Writers were very interesting people, and actually very cool, I wasn't expecting that. I loved hearing of their tribulations, they were very interesting." says Noah Dupes ('10). The Government class, as well as students from other schools, gathered to listen to their inspiring stories. While the Government class was invited so they could get newspoints, what was learned from the experience was a whole lot greater.

Written By: Christine Cuthbertson

The Freedom Writers

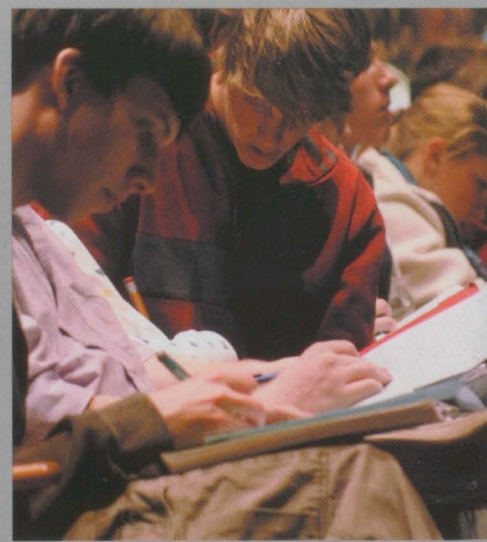

The Freedom Writers, Tony Becerra and Darius Garrett, and Mr. Farnsworth gather for a memorable picture. Darius and Tony's stories were published into a book called "The Freedom Writers" along with many other students from their high school class.

Deep in thought, Torri Kilbourn ('10) writes a reaction based on the Freedom Writer's presentation. Government students were given an opportunity to earn newspoints for attending this event.

Impressed with Tony Becerra's speech, Synthia Alexander ('10) and Meghan Ahlquist ('10) listen with admiration. The Freedom Writers shared their emotional childhoods, which touched many students.

Reviewing their reaction papers, Chase Furness ('10) and Jacob Shoudy ('10) remind themselves what they have learned through the experience. Students were lucky to meet such honorable people.

Displaying her Rice Krispie Treats, Emily Sand ('10) takes a break from her assignment. The occasion for the treat was for Constitution Day which is on September 17.

Preparing for a quiz, a group of Mr. Crowell's students listen to the directions. This is the last year that Government will be a required class. A student comments on the class: "I am glad that I am taking this class because there is a lot of information to be learned, and I really like the debates we have." - Ishan Mehta ('12). A select few juniors and sophomores chose to take this class because this would be the last year that it is offered.

Waiting for the play to start, a group of students discuss what they think the play will entail. The play addressed the fact that even if someone is mentally ill, they can still contribute to the community.

Putting their thoughts into words, Philumina Ratajczak-Smith ('10) and Stephanie Farr ('10) write their reaction papers. The play was offered for newspoints for the seniors.

Geography "Expedition"

To bring far places near; that was just one of the goals of teacher Dr. Albert Lewandowski on the trip to Puerto Rico in September. He was there to attend the National Council of Geographic Education conference. Dr. Lewandowski had recently discovered a new program called Skype. Skype is a free program designed to make communication over the internet easier. His goal was definitely accomplished – considering that Puerto Rico is almost 2,000 miles away.

Dr. Lewandowski decided to use Skype when he realized that he was going to be out of the classroom for 6 days. "I knew I wanted to stay connected with my students." To do so took hours of prep. He had to train the students and teach them how to use Skype. The students of Dr. Lewandowski's Geography class had already started a project on Puerto Rico before his trip so the whole experience was especially helpful to them. Mr. Mosset had said, "Thirty years ago we would have had to take the students to the rainforest. Now we take the rainforest to them."

While on his trip, Dr. Lewandowski had much help from Eliazar Nieves, a Puerto Rican Geographer. Eliazar helped show him around Puerto Rico, and helped to teach him about the people's culture. Dr. Lewandowski even broadcasted himself participating in a Puerto Rican dance group to his students.

When asked about the experience, Tory Martindale ('11) said, "I thought it was cool that we were able to talk to native Puerto Ricans, practically face to face."

Spanish

Confidently standing at the podium, Taylor Forest ('11) tells the class what her partner is wearing. The presentation had to be spoken in all Spanish.

Showing off his new look, Mitchell McPhedrain ('11) smiles at the beginning of the runway. Students had to wear crazy outfits and then describe what they were wearing.

With an effort to model his crazy outfit, Ronald MacKensen ('11) poses for his audience. This is Ronald's second year of Spanish.

Capturing the attention of her classmates, Melissa McCracken ('11) proudly wears her flower poncho. Many students had fun with this project.

Carefully reading his music, Corey Brittan ('10) plays his trombone. Corey has been in marching band for four years.

Smiling in her stance, Sadie Todd ('10) participates in the half time show at Memorial Stadium. This is Sadie's first year in Color Guard.

Waiting patiently for Katie Mullally ('11) to sign the book, Jeremy Myers ('11) and Paul Nevada ('11) get inducted into NHS. The ceremony took place on October 29, 2009.

Remember When...

Remember watching the Marching Band at football games and assemblies? Or remember volunteering your time to help the community and the school? With over twenty different organizations and clubs here at Northern, each activity has an individual purpose to allow students the opportunity to be involved, and spend time with friends.

Remember The Wizard of Oz, or Our Town, both plays that the drama club put on, and the student stage hands helped out behind the scenes.

Remember watching the Marching Band performance at football games and assemblies? Or remember the band concerts, where students showed their musical talents?

Remember volunteering for the community? National Honor Society members volunteer every marking period. Young Educator's Society volunteers at the Halloween Stroll and for the Salvation Army. Student Council member's put on can food drives and blood drives.

Remember the recycling that Tree began this year? Remember Red Ribbon Week and the Compatability Tests put out by Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD)? Remember being toured around, or touring around incoming freshmen for Husky Link? Or what about the polar bear plunge which Key Club participated in?

Remember going to the Caledon concert where you watched a Scottish group perform, along with Northern's Choir?

Or do you remember receiving a school newspaper at lunch? Or perhaps you remember being asked for a quote or photo for the yearbook.

Remember going to a Quiz Bowl match to watch Northern's brightest? Or what about being able to act out a court case in Mock Trial?

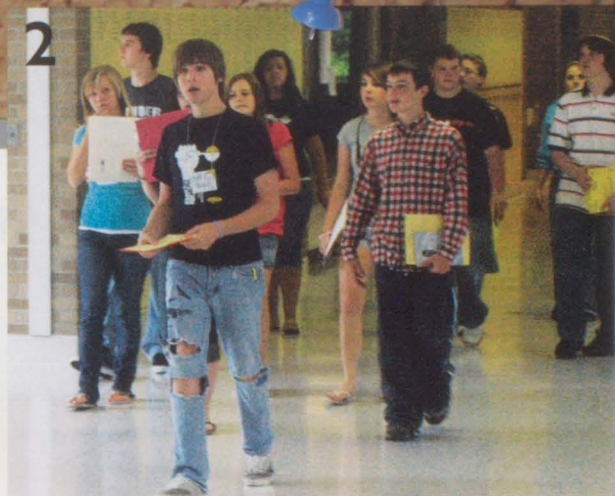

Lastly, do you remember when you had fun with your friends, participating in an activity that you enjoyed?

1. Adding deep expression to the play, Brad Harder ('10) narrates "Our Town." Brad has been in all of the plays performed at Northern.

Maria Souphis ('11) teaches an incoming freshman how to use Student Connect. Maria is very involved in the activities at Northern.

How many students participated in Husky Link?

Incoming freshman ask Sam Lindsey ('10) about what to expect for their first year of high school. Sam excels in her studies here at Northern and is an Honor student.

Helping Mrs. Peattie, Eric Hawtin ('11) distributes textbooks to the incoming freshman. Eric commented that, "Freshman orientation is where upper classmen show freshman around the school, so they know where they're going when school starts."

Reviewing a freshman's folder, Stephen Gossman ('10) gives him insight on Northern. Stephen is a well-rounded student.

Peer Mediation

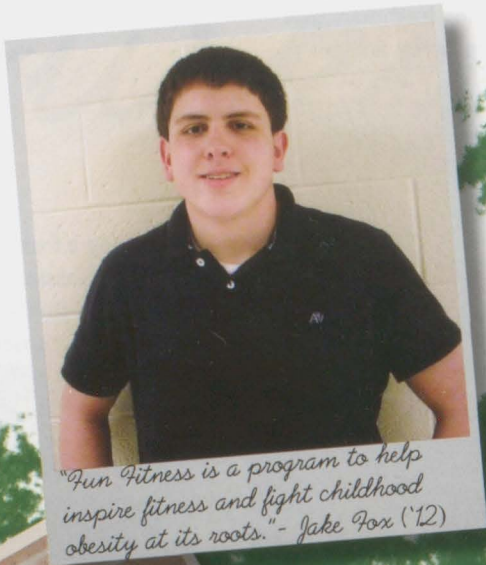

In a theoretical situation, Brooke Ward ('10) pretends to be an obsessive friend. "Peer Mediation is listening to people's problems and trying to help them find their own solutions," Brooke stated, "To get help from Peer Mediation you would go see Mrs. French to go sign up."

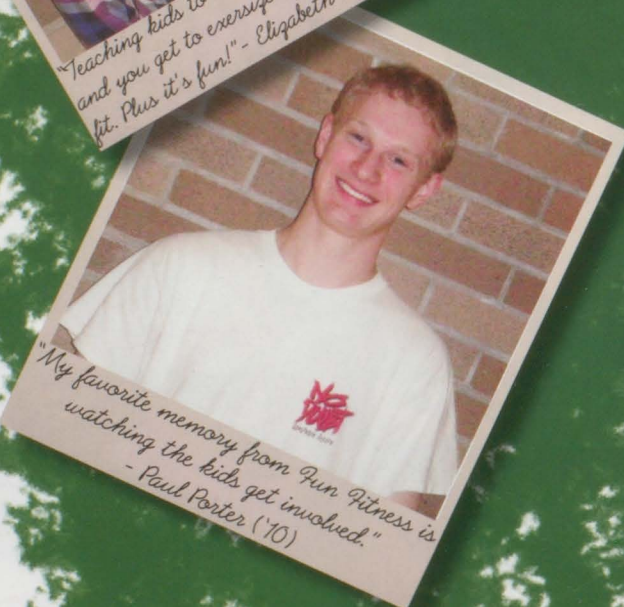

Defending her privacy in a hypothetical situation, Lauren Kyl-lonen ('10) used Peer Mediation to help her find her solution. The issue in the skit was that Brooke Ward ('10) was obsessing over Lauren, claiming they were, "best friends," while Lauren claimed otherwise.

Students for a Healthy America

1. Giving a presentation, students for a Healthy America lead a health class at PHHS. Diligently, a girl takes notes for her health class.
2. Planning to have a healthy bake sale, SHA gets together to taste test possible treats. Nikki Jamison ('11) brought in healthy mini muffins for members to try.
3. Posing with her treats, Kathleen Mullally takes a picture before the parfaits were devoured. Fruit parfaits are a healthy and delicious treat.
4. Explaining the spread of diabetes across the decades, Bianca Marrogy ('11) illustrates diabetes impact on the world. Students in the area are becoming more informed of the risks of developing diabetes.
5. Demonstrating different ways to exercise, Chad Hughes ('10) also emphasizes the importance of exercise. Chad is the Co-President of SHA.

1. Discussing possible answers, Leopold Eckert ('12) and Nithin Tumma ('12) talk their way through a question. Both Leopold and Nithin excel academically.

2. Feeling rushed, Charles Coop searches through his wealth of knowledge to solve a question. Charles, or "Bill", has been in Quiz Bowl for four years.

3. Scribbling down a math problem, Devin Brennan ('12) races for the answer. Laughing, Devin stated, "[The most interesting question I was ever asked was] 'What was the major physical defect of Henry XI?' - Fat and ugly."

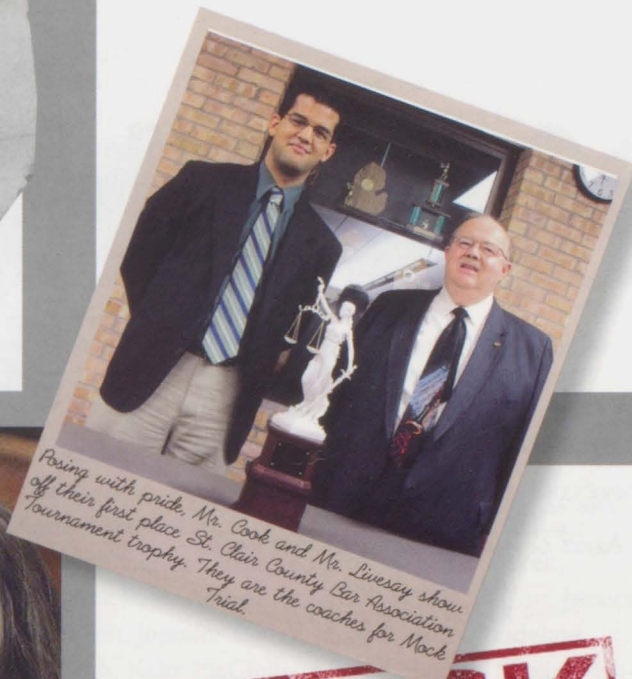

Working through a problem, Clay Kimball ('12) and Emmanuel Avelino ('12) test their mathematical skills. Questions are on subjects ranging from philosophy and mythology to science and math.

A Courtroom Experience

Mock Trial is an opportunity for students to experience the courtroom by becoming an attorney, witnesses or defendant. Members are given case materials and prepare cases while studying the universal case. Mock Trial is great for students who want to pursue a career in Law. Paula Carmichael ('12), a prosecutor, stated: "I plan on having a career in public safety because it's always been interesting to me." Mock Trial provides members with insight to the courtroom and colorful high school memories.

MARCHING BAND

What encouraged you to stay in marching band all four years?

"The seniors currently in marching band & myself have decided we're too legit to quit."

- Rachel Kohanov ('10)

1. Showing her school spirit, Rachel Kohanov ('10) proudly holds up her PHN sign. Rachel is the drum major for the marching band.

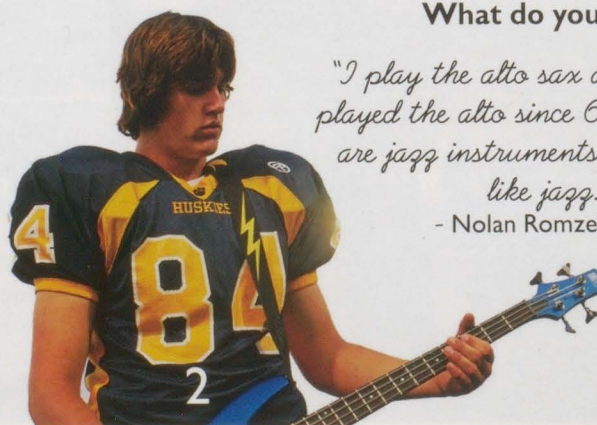

2. Multitasking, Nolan Romzek ('10) plays his bass during a home football game. He plays the bass for marching band and also plays in the game.

What do you play?

"I play the alto sax and bass. I've played the alto since 6th grade. Both are jazz instruments and I really like jazz."

- Nolan Romzek ('10)

"The best part of marching band is being with my friends and playing at the football games."
- Tony Guizar ('12)

3. Jamming to the Danny Elfman Show, Jacob Murfin ('13) plays his clarinet. He is one of the two boys who play the clarinet in Marching Band.
4. Setting the beat for the Marching Band Zach Nye ('13) plays his quads. He is one of the two quad players.
5. Having fun playing the snare, Jenna Brettschneider ('13) is one of the few freshman girls on the drum line.
6. With all of his heart, Josh Meyers ('13), plays the baritone. This is his first year in Marching Band.

1. Enjoying the music, Amanda Stephenson ('10) claps along with the other members in Color Guard. Preparing to twirl her flag, Amanda joined Color Guard because she still wanted to be in Marching Band since she played the oboe, an instrument not included in marching band.

2. Synthia Alexander ('10) focuses on the show. Synthia is a devout Color Guard member.

3. Dancing to the YMCA at halftime, Kristen Gostinger ('10), Kirsten Kelly ('12), Amanda Stephenson ('10), Hannah Griffen ('12), Synthia Alexander ('10) and Emily Shevnock ('12) form the "A" during the song. During this performance at halftime 8th graders planning on joining the marching band next year, played along with PHN's band.

4. Exercising her routine, Kristen Gostinger ('10) moves into her next position. Kristen is an enthusiastic performer.

5 Tips for SURVIVING a choir concert

1. Don't drink milk beforehand.
2. Don't be late.
3. Stay focused.
4. Be dedicated
5. Enjoy yourself!

Concert Choir

5. After weeks of practice, Kristen Gostinger ('10), Erin Austin ('11), and Amanda Stephenson ('10) show the audience their dedication through their talent. A student has to prove their talent through auditions to become a member of Concert Choir.

6. With their eyes focused on Mrs. Kaski, the members of Concert Choir follow her lead at their first concert of the year. Concert Choir is an elite and competitive class.

7. Putting in their share of effort and dedication, the choir proudly sings one of their new songs, "Down to the River". It only took them one month to learn and perfect this song.

8. Singing their hearts out, the young men and women of the group gracefully blend their voices into one sound. During the concert, the audience was asked to practice with all of the choruses.

1.) Caught in the middle of their fall concert, these ladies of PHN's Women's Ensemble hold themselves well while singing. Later, they are joined by the rest of the choir students to sing the song, "Down to the River".

2.) To make sure they are singing to the best of their ability, Lena Werner ('10) and Hannah Griffen ('12) stay focused while warming up their voices. Lena is also a foreign exchange student this year from Germany.

3.) While warming up to practice their songs for the choir concert in December, Alina Robers ('10) and Abigail Weaver ('11) use a technique that rains them to open their mouths very wide to produce a better sound. Alina is also class representative.

"My favorite warm up is solfege, which is the 'do re mi...' warm up. I joined choir my freshman year because I enjoy singing. My musical inspiration is Mrs. VanDyke"
Amanda Kramp ('10)

3.) It being their first time on stage for the year, Women's Ensemble did very well. This is Mrs. Kaski's first year being the choir teacher at Port Huron Northern.

4.) The young ladies of Women's ensemble prepare themselves for a fantastic year. Prior to Halloween, they were singing songs to put them in the holiday's spirit.

FRESHMEN Women's Chorus

Serenading the crowd, Samantha White ('13), McKale Bingham ('13), and Elissa Borovich ('13) show off their talent. As high school students, this is their first choir performance.

Members: Angel Bernardo, McKale Bingham, Michaela Bistis, Elissa Borovich, Kayla Bowers, Tatiana Coody, Rhiannon Escareno, Soraya Fernandez, Abigail Godwin, Nicole Jagodzinski, Haunani Johnson, Alexandria Johnston, Marissa McNames, Sabrina Needham, Erin Stockwell, Rachel Sullivan, Elizabethe Umphrey, Samantha White, Katelyn Wilson

5. Singing in harmony with one another, these ladies from PHN's Freshmen Women's Chorus perform for their present audience. With praise from the crowd, these young women sang their hearts out.

6. Warming up for class, Katelyn Wilson ('13) prepares for choir practice. Katelyn knows that the key to a great performance is practice.

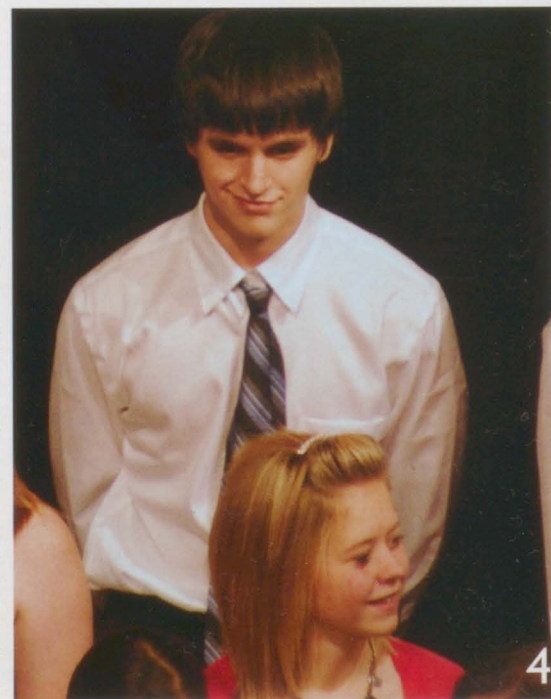

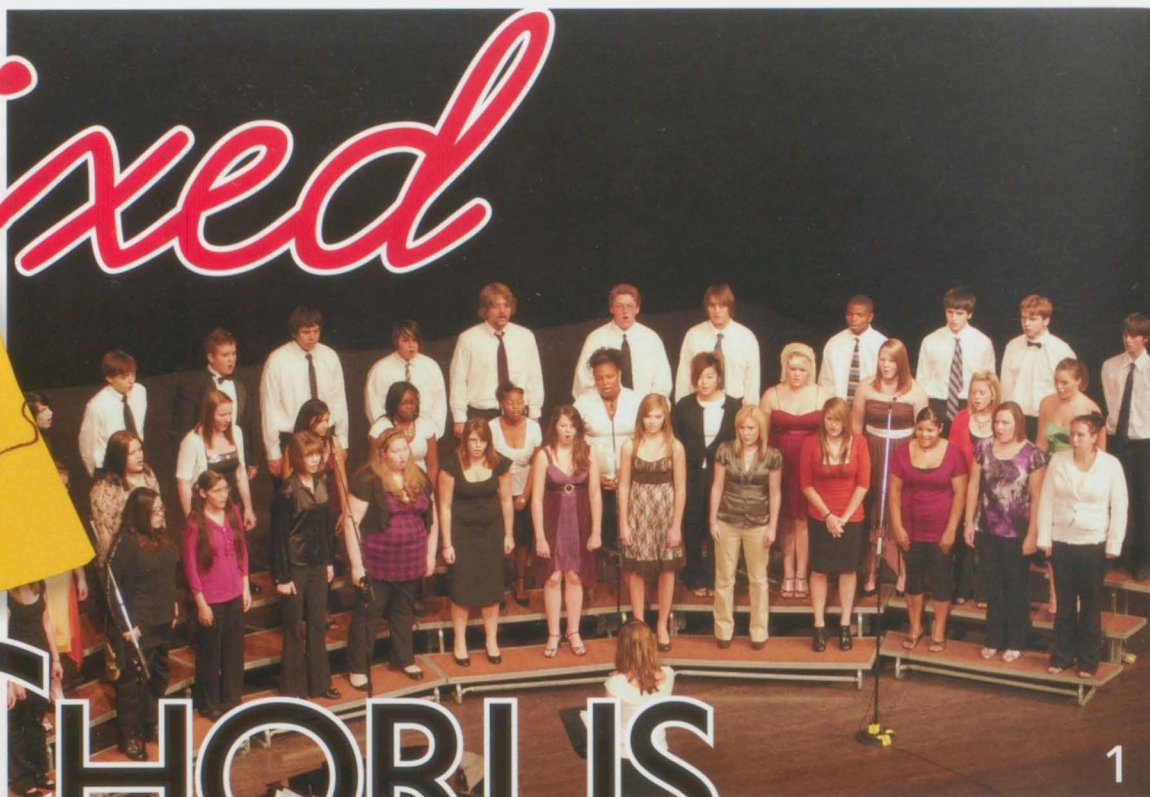

7. Prepping for class, Kayliegh Brough ('13) readies her voice for class. This technique helps the class prepare for that day's work.

8. At their first performance as a choir, these young women begin their debut. Every day for the first semester of school, they practice for this event.

Mixed

CHORUS

Members: Talor Albright, Sabrina Bahnweg, Tyler Barthel, Shawn Bolam, Candice Clark, Moteaka Coody, Cody Curtis, Keyy Dennison, Kyle Duffy, Deonte Farmer, Cachet Faulkner, Aaron Fredendall, Lisa Gill, Michael Gross, Marissa Hall, Lauren Hart, Breiann Hatt, Amanda Herr, Jeffry Jagodzinski, Olivia Jones, Satoko Kaiwa, Gabriel Killion, Andrew King, Mia Kivel, Amanda Kramp, Malcolm Kramp, Jared Land, Lateashia LeBeau, Trina Levitt, Taylor Matthews, Heather McKeever, Melissa Mertz, Christopher Neumann, Chelsea Oellerich, Marissa Pruett, Alina Roberts, Margaret Roberts, Aaron Robinson, Nena Rodriguez, Amber Ross, Megan Sampson, Lee-Ann Welch, Tammy West, Madison Woodruff

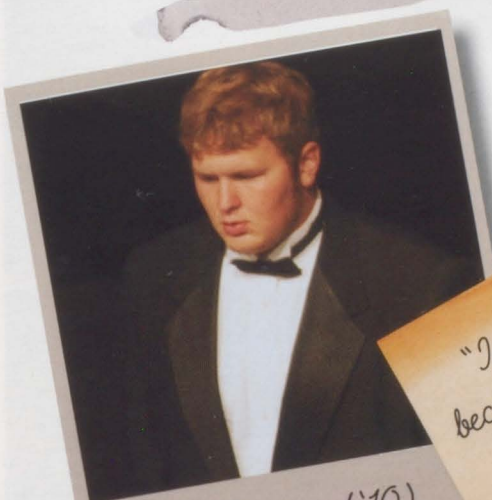

1.) Singing their hearts out to a song written by Olivia Jones ('11), Mixed Chorus wows the crowd. "A Halloween Round," took a lot of time and practice because the song was acappella.

2.) Mixed Chorus is a combination of talented men and women ranging from freshmen to seniors. Mixed Chorus has come to feel like a big family to everyone.

3.) Waiting for their cue, Malcom Kramp ('12), Kyle Duffy ('12), and Tyler Barthel ('11) take a deep breath. Men are a very large part of Mixed Chorus because they have to carry the lower notes.

4.) Filled with delight from the thunderous applause, Aaron Robinson ('10) smiles at his parents. Many of the students were very nervous because this was their first concert.

Questions for the guys...

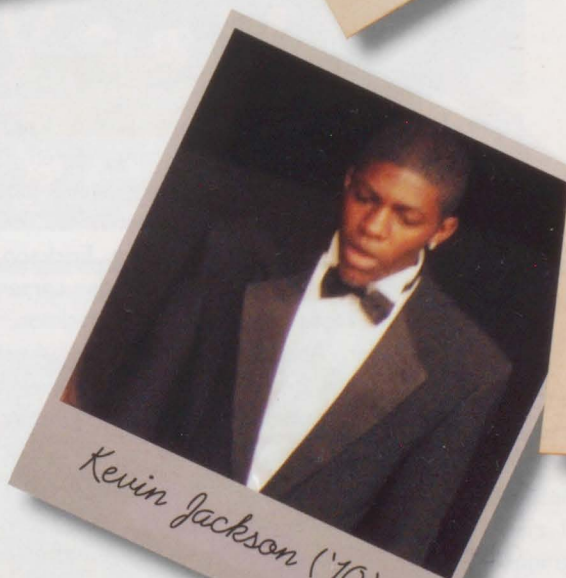

Jake Davis ('10)

"I joined choir because my dad did it. My biggest musical inspiration is Elvis."

Andy King ('11)

"I'm in choir because I like to sing and wanted to meet new people. My favorite kind of music is Soft Rock."

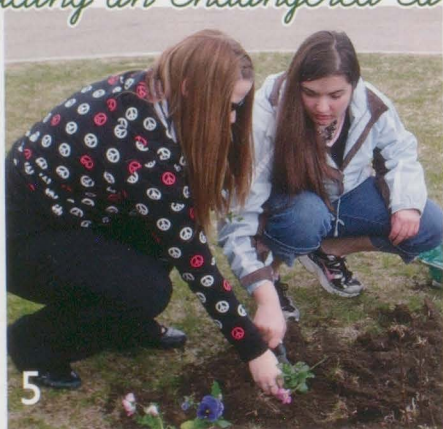

Kevin Jackson ('10)

"My favorite part about choir is learning new things about music and learning different ways to sing."

Together Rebuilding an Endangered Earth

1. Recycling paper and magazines, Amber Arispe ('10) holds the bag for Nicole Genna ('11). The group takes the bags of paper gathered from Northern to the local recycling center.

2. Heading towards a classroom, Kelsey Schrader ('10) and Abigail Weaver ('11) gather recyclables. They are devoted to T.R.E.E. and its purpose.

3. The symbol of the peace sign represents T.R.E.E.'s purpose as a club. This year's recycling bins were distributed throughout the school in order to make PHN a greener place.

4. The recycling bin in the cafeteria provides an easy way to help clean up the environment. Alice Erickson ('10) spent about an hour helping paint the recycle bins at a T.R.E.E. meeting. The detailed work and attractive style really draws the students' attention!

5. Planting trees at Northern, Amber Rock ('10) and Aleesha David ('11) carefully place the flowers in perfect alignment. This helps to reduce carbon emissions and makes the school's scenery look fabulous.

6. Leading their group members, Riley Pfeifer ('10), Spencer Smith ('10) and Justin Betrus ('12) help plant flowers in front of our school. T.R.E.E. helps our society by making the environment a healthy and attractive place.

Leaders In the Making

Through life experiences, competitions, and community services, D.E.C.A. is club based on forming strong future leaders. Students in D.E.C.A. can travel across the country; students can build character, leadership, and learn important skills for success and competing in many different events. Some competitions include research events, principles events, online events, entrepreneurship events, chapter team events, team decision-making events, and marketing representative events. "I compete in Hotel/Motel management," Dane Barnard ('11). D.E.C.A. gives the skills needed to succeed in multiple career choices. By competing with D.E.C.A., students can earn scholarships totaling more than one million dollars. "[D.E.C.A.] is a rewarding, fulfilling experience," Tyler Henry ('10).

1. Painting the bus on Mrs. Kearn's wall, Kelsey Schrader ('10) focuses on her task. Art Club expands to other parts of the school to improve the look and feel of the classrooms.

2. Painting, Marisah Arsipe ('11) concentrates on her creation in the making. "I like drawing abstract things," Marisah stated, "because it gets people thinking."

"I have been drawing since 5th grade, and love to draw characters so I hope to go into animation for a career." - Sarah Seyfried ('11)

3. Using her iTouch to guide her, Deena Sabbagh ('10) sketches the outline for her painting. Deena is imitating the album cover "In the Decemberwrist" by the band The Emotron.

Diversity Club

Q: What is Diversity Club?

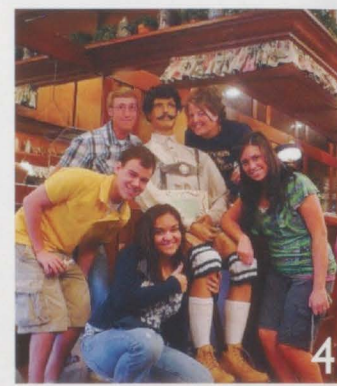

A: Diversity club is a group at PHN that hopes to provide information and promote acceptance for different cultures of the world. Through different events, members are exposed to an array of knowledge regarding religion, food, and lifestyles of different people. - Mitchell Johnston ('10)

Q: What are the ways that in Diversity Club you become more enlightened of other cultures?

A: Going out to eat, selling things made in other countries, supporting a child in Guatemala, attending festivals. - Rachel Jokie ('10)

Q: Do you recommend Diversity Club? Why?

A: I definitely recommend Diversity club because I believe that when we go and participate in these things outside of our cultural "norms" we can grow and better ourselves by learning what we don't know and see everyday, and what others in the world face everyday. - Dominique Lewis ('10)

1.) Dying of laughter, Rachel Jokie ('10)

1. Focusing on staying in character, Rachel Kohanov ('10) and Chet Lukas ('11) connect with the audience. Rachel played the part of Emily and Chet played the part of George in the play "Our Town".

2. Determined to do their best, Ryan Greene ('10) and Sydney Lukas ('09) perform in the play Alter Egos. Alter Egos was Northern's 2008 fall play.

3. Taking a moment for a picture, Megan Wiley ('10), Brandon Johnston ('10) and Marleigh Jones ('10) pose with their 80's styled hair. These three are dedicated Northern Drama Club students.

4. In an intense discussion, the actors from Alter Egos use their facial expressions to help portray the characters. Meanwhile, other characters have a good time at the dance.

5. To create the look of being dead, Nick Reed ('12) holds very still with a blank look on his face. White face paint was applied to make the characters appear ghostly. "I come from a family of actors, I like the stage," Nick stated.

6. Following the lead of the choir instructor, the chorus members from the play "Our Town" came to an abrupt stop. The choir was lead by Patrick Godwin ('11).

7. Having the support of Natalie Haynes ('12), Rebecca Romzek ('10) sings her heart out at the Halloween stroll. Natalie was dressed as a lion and Rebecca dressed as a tiger.

Practice Makes Perfect! Becoming a member of Wind Ensemble is a very challenging accomplishment. These unique members represent a very small handful of band students with excellent dedication and years of experience. "Wind Ensemble is the highest level of the three bands and consists of students who have talent and are willing to practice non-stop," says dedicated player Leah Meyers ('11). Leah has been a member of Wind Ensemble for two years and plays the Percussion. Auditioning for the course takes a lot of confidence and has strict requirements. "In order to become a member, you have to know your scales well and have a lot of prior knowledge with your instrument. If you play well and are advanced, you will be accepted," says Leah. Throughout her years in Wind Ensemble, Leah has learned what motivation and accomplishment leads to. It has really prepared her for the future because she has gained so much confidence and experienced the success of dedication. The best advice Leah can give to future students that are aiming to become a member of Wind Ensemble is, "Practice non-stop, pay attention, and never give up!" Written by Arielle Larsen

1. Playing the xylophone, Emily Tseng ('11) and Leah Meyers ('11) add a colorful sound to the music. Sometimes the xylophone will have the same part as the flute, but other times it has its own.

2. Directed by Mr. Senkmajer, the wind section entices their audience with their talent. It is required to audition each year in order to be a member of Wind Ensemble.

3. Warming up before class, Sarah Carson ('11), Emily MacBeth ('11), Lindsey Helton ('12), and Hannah Griffin ('12) tune their clarinets. The clarinet is the most recent addition to the woodwind family.

4. Plucking his bass, Nathaniel Leritz ('10) plays in the back of the band room. When you pluck the bass it is called "pizzicato".

Wind Ensemble

5. Providing the rhythm, Danielle Weidig ('12) plucks her bass. Symphonic Band and Wind Ensemble both have double bases.
6. Playing in a higher register, Heather Holderby ('11), Kenneth Kobberstad ('10), Shelby Pickelhaupt ('11) and Tyler Thompson ('12) are the first-part altos. There are eleven alto saxophones in Symphonic Band.
7. Hitting the low notes, Tyler Wessel ('11), Ronald Isaac ('10) and Joshua Bryce ('11) play their trumpets. Trumpets have been around since biblical times.

NATIONAL H

1. Completing the National Honor Society Inauguration Ceremony, the students stand and say the NHS pledge. It is an honor to be offered a place in NHS.

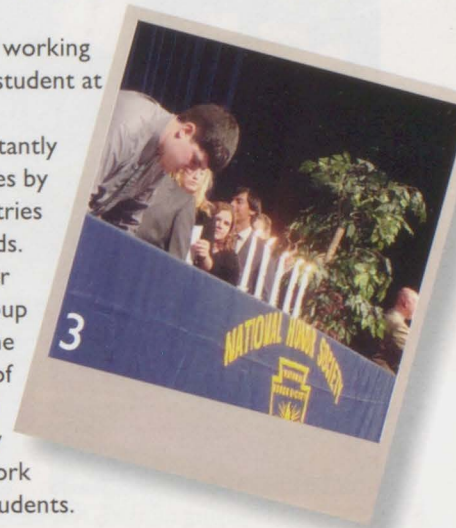

2. Dressed as "Bailey the Ballerina", Chad Hughes ('10) asks for donations for Relay for Life. Chad was given the title of "Best Dancer" because of his break dance moves in his tu-tu. He earned NHS hours for his participation in the Relay for Life

3. Signing the National Honor Society Membership book, Michael Hurd ('10) agrees to follow traditional NHS guidelines. NHS is a disciplined group that strives to develop character and push students to serve their community.

4. Beginning her first year as a member of NHS, Jacquelyn Olson ('11) signs the Membership book.

Jackie is a hard working and dedicated student at Northern.

5. NHS is constantly running charities by collecting toiletries or canned goods. National Honor Society is a group dedicated to the improvement of the school and the community through the work of dedicated students.

HONOR SOCIETY

National Honor Society is more than just an Honor Roll. It is a group based on a students performance in five areas; scholarship, service, leadership, character, and citizenship.

Scholarship: Students who have an average accumulative grade of 85% are eligible for consideration.

Service: Students that perform voluntary contributions to his or her school or community without compensation and with a positive and enthusiastic attitude.

Leadership: Student Leaders are resourceful, good problem solvers, dependable and show a positive attitude.

Character: A student of good character upholds principles of morality and ethics, cooperation, and shows high standards of honesty, reliability, courtesy, concern, and respect for their community.

Citizenship: A student can demonstrate citizenship by demonstrating the importance of civic involvement, and having a high regard for freedom, justice, and democracy and by showing involvement in community and school organizations.

Guitar Club

1. Enjoying himself, Keenan Sharpe ('13) practices his guitar. This is Keenan's first year as a member of Guitar Club.

2. While tuning a guitar, Steve Dennis shows a student the basics. Steve has been one of the advisers of Guitar Club all four years that it has been offered.

3. Playing for another member of Guitar Club, Jared Land ('10) presents a song to an eager student. Being his last year in Guitar Club, Jared hopes to make it the best.

4. Striving to get the rift perfect, Matthew Campbell ('10) concentrates hard to hit the right notes. Matt excels at fast-paced songs.

6. Building student body character, S.A.D.D. runs Red Ribbon Week. "I promise to never drink!" was a commitment one of Northern's students made.

1. Looking over some spread sheets, Ms. Nielsen helps out the yearbook staff. This is Ms. Nielsen's first year as the yearbook advisor.
2. Having writers' block, Katie Thrushman ('12) ponders on what to write next. In Yearbook, the staff members write copies, interview students and staff, and write captions.
3. Explaining the latest assignment, Jenna Sparling ('10) advises Rachael Cuthbertson ('12). Rachael is a great addition to the Yearbook Staff.
4. Reviewing a layout, Christine Cuthbertson ('10) and Alaura Martindale ('10) come up with creative ideas. Christine and Alaura are the Academic and Business editors.
5. Working on their spreads, some of our senior editors, Christine Cuthbertson ('10), Sara Hutchinson ('10), Jenna Sparling ('10) and Kayla Koppel ('10), are hard at work. The editors have nine hours of overtime they must complete each marking period. To finish a yearbook, it takes a lot of time!

Q: As Editor in Chief, what are your responsibilities?

A: I oversee and coordinate everything the newspaper does.

Q: How long does the newspaper take to finish? How does it get printed?

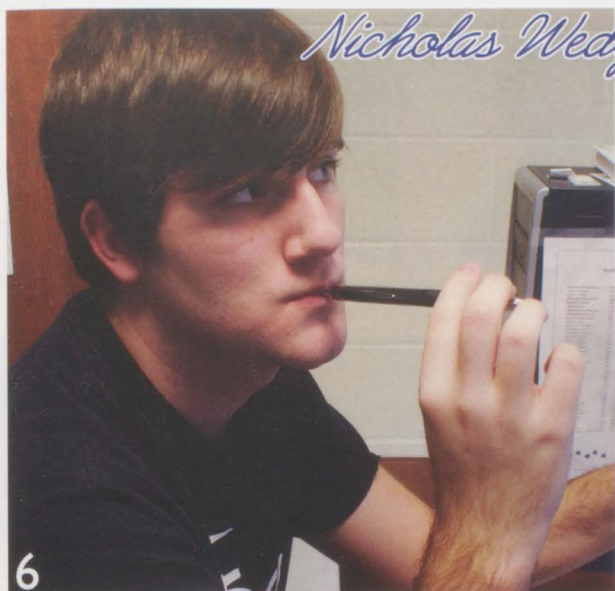

A: It takes about a month to finish, if all goes smoothly. The newspaper gets printed at the district Print Shop on Dove Road.

Q: What are some topics that newspaper covers?

A: We cover anything school related, like sports, and anything that effects the school.

Q: What is one thing you wouldn't expect someone to know about newspaper?

A: That it's not just writing, you can do many other things. It's for anybody here at Northern.

SPORTS

With their arms held high, the girls Varsity Volleyball team shows their pride by shouting a chant. They had an overall record of 27-17-23.

With perfect form, Gabrielle Basha ('10) prepares to hit the ball. This was Gabi's first year on the Varsity Tennis Team.

Concentrating on the game Jacob Fox ('12) prepares to hike the football. The Varsity team was victorious against St. Clair and Fraser.

Remember When...

Remember at the first Varsity Football game when Jacob Davis' ('10) name was called and he ran across the field, to bang chests with intense force, knocking his teammate to the ground? Or what about at the PH vs. PHN game where Mark Perez ('11) left the game with a concussion? Do you remember at the St. Clair game, Kenny Sanders ('11) sprang for the ball in the St. Clair endzone, intercepting the ball, refusing to let St. Clair receive a touch down?

Do you remember when the girls Varsity Soccer team played to the best of their ability and received second place in the Croslex tournament?

Remember when the Cheerleading team received second place out of eleven teams in their first competition at Port Huron High School?

What about the Swim team? Do you remember when they finally acquired a permanent place to swim at the YMCA? Or what about how this was the Swim team's second year for diving?

Do you remember when the girls Varsity Softball team received the District Sportsmanship Award?

Remember when the boys Varsity Basketball team played their hardest and made it to double overtime in their first game?

Or what about the fact that Gage Nowaczyk ('12) lost twenty pounds to meet his weight goal for wrestling?

Do you remember when the boys Varsity Soccer team made it to the semi finals of Districts?

Lastly, do you remember attending all the sporting events with your friends, cheering for Port Huron Northern's athletes and your fellow classmates?

1. With determination on her face, Alaina Parker ('11), pushes through the race. Bystanders watch closely trying to calculate the race's results.
2. Dribbling the ball, Leon Boyd-Cleaver ('11), runs for the net to avoid a steal. Leon has been playing Varsity Soccer for three years.
3. Holding the bat steadily, Shawn Drulia ('10), waits for the pitch. Having the right form ensures accuracy.

TRACK

1. Fiercely jumping over the hurdle, Dominique Lewis ('10) strives to reach the finish line first. Dominique has ran track all 3 years of his high school career 2. Quickly running to the finish line, Holly Echenburg ('11) puts forth her best effort. Along with running, Holly also participates in the high jump event.

3. Trying to earn a husky victory, Josh Wolford ('10) sprints toward the finish line. Josh is also a leading captain of the husky football team.

Catherine Goetze ('09)

LIFETIME PLAYER

Playing softball is more than just a sport for Catherine Goetze, "It's an amazing experience that helps you grow as a person." After four years of playing softball for PHN, Goetze was awarded captain her senior year. Overall she learned a lot, "It's not a one man sport, it takes everyone." The varsity team was a very close-knit group. With only 13 girls, the team shared a strong connection. "We were all so different, but what brought us together was the love for softball. It was nice to reach out to people you don't normally talk to." Together, Goetze and the girls improved each others strengths and weaknesses by helping out with each others skills. Practicing five days a week and winning over 500 games during the season, really proved to be a success. One of Catherine's favorite memories was "the PH vs. PHN game because of the energy, spirit, and the adrenaline rush, it was so powerful." Catherine is a fantastic player and will always have the love for softball. "I'll take it with me the rest of my life!"

1. Gathering up the ball for an out, Caetlan James ('10) sends another opponent to the dug out. It is very important to always have your eye on the ball in case an important play is needed to be made.
2. Sliding into 3rd base, Saige Reinhard ('12) tries her hardest to keep the play alive. Softball players have to be quick in agility in order to make it to the base before their opponent catches them.
3. Knocking the ball into the outfield, Ashley Schrader ('11) hits a home run for the Huskies. This is Ashley's first year with the JV team.
4. Taking a hard swing at the ball, Sadie Janks ('10) hits the ball out of the park. Saide loves softball and has been playing it for years.
5. Sending a perfect pitch into her opponent, Courtney Fleet ('12) attempts to add another out to the inning. It is difficult to throw a pitch tricky enough for the opponent to strike out.

6. Reaching for the out, Danielle Borowski ('10) collects the ball for another strike. This is Danielle's second year on the JV team and has been playing softball for years.

7. Striking her opponent out, Alex Ainsworth ('12) continues pitching through the fourth inning. Despite her being a freshman Alex found her way on the JV team with her talent.

Varsity

BASEBALL

Returning the ball to the pitcher, the catcher is eager to get back to the game. The catcher has an important job of covering home base and giving signals to the pitcher.

Reading the catcher's signals, Jayson Southgate-Smith ('09) determines what pitch to throw. It is important for the pitcher and catcher to communicate so both know what pitch is going to be thrown.

1. Throwing one of his famous fast balls, Jansyn Southgate-Smith ('09) plays his nest against the opposing team. This is Jansyn's second year on the Varsity team.

2. Getting ready to swing for the ball, Zach Zerrer ('10) gives a determined look to hit the incoming ball and get his team a hit. Zach also plays for the boys Varsity soccer team.

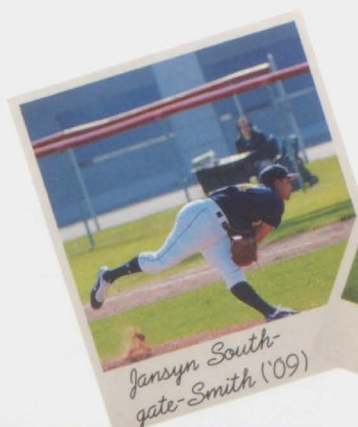

3. Positioning himself for the pitch Alex Zondlack is ready to catch the ball for a strike. This is Alex's second year playing for the Varsity team as the catcher.

4. Running the bases, Tyler Smith ('09) and Andrew Seppo ('09) try to score points to put the Huskies ahead. This is Tyler's first year on the Varsity team and Andrew's second year.

1. Waiting anxiously for the pitch, Travis Ling ('12) is ready to catch the ball. Travis has been playing baseball throughout his life.
2. Forcefully throwing the ball, Garret McFail throws a wicked fastball. McFail does a wonderful job throwing fast balls making it hard for his opponents to hit the ball.
3. Winding up for the pitch, Peter Bistis ('12) gets ready for the strike. Pitching is very complicated but Bistis concentrates very hard to strike out his opponent.
4. Making a sprint towards first base, Dustin Harvey ('12) hits a tough ball for his opponents to retrieve. This is Dustin's first year on JV Baseball.
5. Knocking the ball out of the park, Travis Sparr ('11) scores points for the Huskies. This is Travis's first year on JV Baseball.

1. Listening to his captain, Tyler Corrigan ('11), is ready to rush his opponent. This is Tyler's second year on the Varsity team.
2. Running the ball past his opponents, Mark Perez ('11), uses his footwork to get around the other team. Unfortunately, during the PHHS game Mark Perez suffered a concussion, but he desired to play the next game.
3. Making a diving tackle, Nick Kendrick ('10) stops his opponent in his tracks. A strong defense is very important in the game of football .
4. Ready to play, the Northern Huskies get in position and wait for the whistle. The Huskies played tough in every game challenging every opponent on the field.
5. Escaping the Big Red player, Nate Manis ('11) manages to avoid the tackle while gaining a first down for the Huskies. In addition to playing football Nate also plays baseball.

6. Ready to be put into the game, Ted Dooley ('10) and his teammates focus and cheer on their teammates. Coach Kuscera inspired team pride and husky spirit that is so important in these tough football games.

7. Stripping the opponents of the ball, the Northern offense runs in attempt to gain a touchdown. Every game the Northern team put up a fight to try and bring home a victory for the huskies.

1. Running the ball up field, Trace Lumpkins ('13) manages a first down for the Huskies. The players are taught early to protect the football at all times to avoid fumbles.
2. Getting the game started, Erik Olsen ('13) punts the ball towards the end of the field. A deep kick allows time for the rest of the huskies to get down the field for a good tackle.
3. Tackling his opponent to the ground, Matt Smith ('12) and his teammates makes sure no one gets past their defense. Having teamwork and working together is essential in every sport.
4. Celebrating after the game, the JV team raises their helmets after a well played game. The JV team worked very well and always supported each other which makes a great team.
5. Ready to begin play, Isaiah Thames ('13) and Justin Moore ('13) stare down the opponent. It is very important to listen to the quarterback to know when the ball is being played.

1. Stretching himself to the top, Will Gaul ('13) saves a point by hitting a winner. Hitting an overhead is a great opportunity to win a point.

2. Keeping his eye on the ball, Dillion Brown ('11) prepares to gently volley the ball over the net. This is Dillion's second year on the JV team.

3. Ripping the ball down the line, Andrew Cansfield ('13) hits a perfect win. With his talent, Andrew was one of few freshmen who made it on the Varsity team. It is very difficult to earn a spot on the Varsity team as a freshman but with Andrew's skill, determination and team work Andrew has been able to play on the Varsity team. For seven years Andrew has had the privileged of playing the sport he loves.

4. Keeping his eyes on the ball, Timothy Gaul ('12) slices the ball. A slice puts a lot of curve on the ball so the opponent has to run closer to the net.

5. Focusing for the next point, Tyler Wessel ('11), tosses the ball up for his serve. This is Tyler's second year on the Junior Varsity team.

6. Managing to hit a backhand volley, Nithin Tumma ('12) wins the match point. Nithin worked hard throughout the season.

7. Using all of his strength, Corey Tynan ('10) rips a serve down the middle for an ace. A little jump in your serve is great for more power.

Truth Behind The Mask

Walking into the halls of Northern this year everyone was greeted by a new furry companion. Making his first appearance for the incoming freshmen, the husky mascot was a new symbol of pride and spirit. "When the husky made its first appearance, I was so excited I wanted to give it a hug," expresses Ashton Hearn ('10). The husky mascot can be seen at almost all sporting events and assemblies. "I see that fuzzball cruising down these halls all the time, what can I say, he's a cool dude with those pretty ears and fluffy tail," states Jeff Scahill. The question still remains, who is portraying this giant furball? "Some people already figured out who I am, and others are still left in the dark, but I think its okay. The crowd seems to have a positive reaction when they know who their cheering with," says the Husky Mascot ('??).

1. Looking for an open teammate, Chad McPhedrain ('10) tries to pass the ball past the PHHS player. This is Chad's second year on the Varsity team.

2. Dribbling out of his end zone, Austin Shell ('11) gains PHN possession. The Huskies played a tough game suffering a double overtime defeat.

3. Watching his opponent, Mark Perez ('11) keeps his eyes on the ball looking for a turnover. Mark also plays on the Varsity football team.

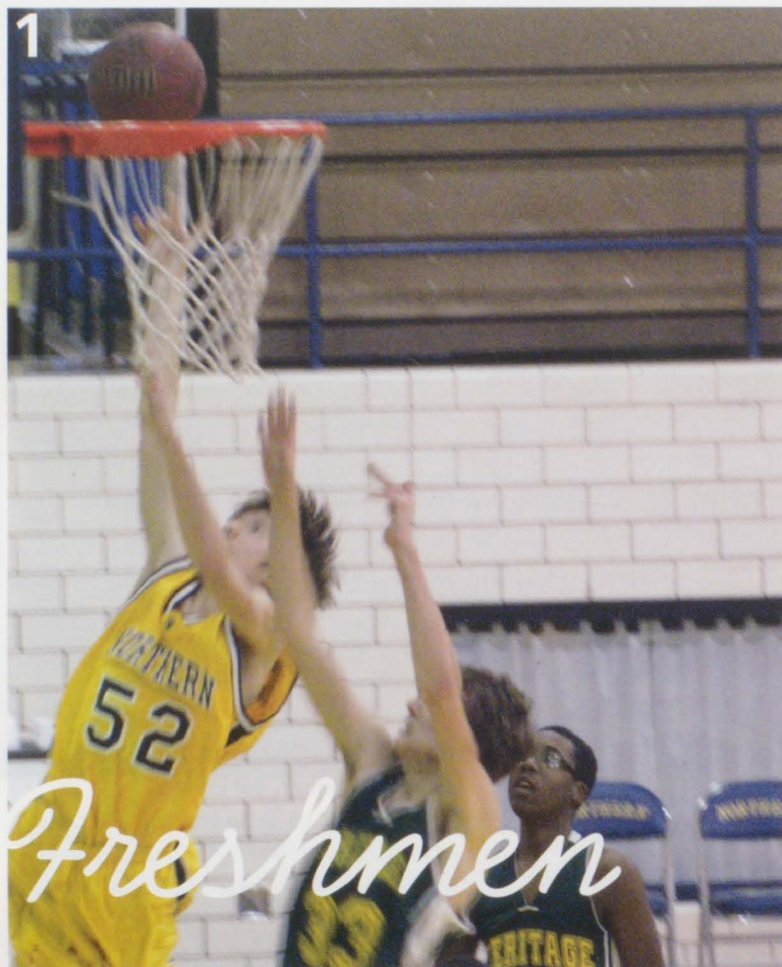

4. Trying to receive the rebound, Austin Zimmer ('11) jumps for glory to retrieve the ball. Austin is a very aggressive player, trying his hardest to retrieve every loose ball.

5. Going up for a lay up, Kenny Sanders ('11) tries to score a basket for the Husky team. Basketball is a very physical sport and requires stamina and quick endurance.

6. Guarding the ball, Travis Reed ('10) puts himself in between his opponent and the ball to ensure possession. This is Travis's 4th year on the Varsity team and he is the captain.

7. Tipping the game off, Austin Shell ('11) is the chosen player for the jump ball. A jump ball begins play.

1. Shooting for a layup, TJ Quirk ('13) flies in the air to score a basket. He hopes to play basketball all four years of high school.

2. Reaching above the competition, Donovan Barnes ('13) reclaims the ball as he grabs the rebound. Donovan is a huge asset to the Freshmen team.

3. Dodging his opponents, Blake Goulding ('13) zig-zags through the traffic to get to the basket. Blake is a very fierce player, and is always trying his best.

4. Keeping his cool, Alex Johns-Moore ('12) shoots a free throw for a basket. When a player commits a foul, the opposing team has a chance to shoot a free throw for one point.

5. Displaying his skills, Peter Bisitis ('12) tries to fake out his opponent. "Basketball is such a rush. I love playing on JV."

6. Dribbling out of a sticky situation, Ben Haynes ('12) maneuvers around his opponents with ease. This is Ben's first year on the JV team.

7. Retrieving the rebound, Dylan Harrison ('12) jumps to recover the ball with his teammates help. Dylan is one of the tallest guys on the JV team standing at 6'2.

Competitive Cheer

1. Finishing her performance with a bang, Marisa Solomon ('11), performs a right-legged split. Doing the splits requires great flexibility and WOWS the judges.

2. Rah! Rah! Rah! Sadie Todd ('10), poses for the judges. Sadie is captain of the Varsity Cheer team.

3. Husky Power! These Northern cheerleaders show what they're made of to the competition judges. Judges look for many skills such as pointed toes, loud voices, and facials.

4. Dazzling the crowd, Kristi Duty ('12), and Marisa Solomon ('11) perform their routine. The cheer team performs at every Varsity basketball game during halftime.

Bowling

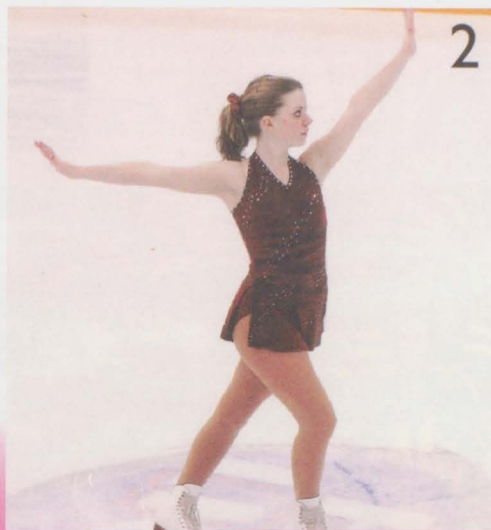

1. On the approach, Katie Thrusman ('12), releases her bowling ball down the lane for a strike. Katie brings spirit to the matches by loudly cheering for her teammates.
2. Preparing to throw the ball, Cody Napora ('11), straightens his backswing. Cody is a lefty-bowler, which comes in a rare amount.
3. With a powerful backswing, Mike Champenoy ('12), is about to make his spare. Mike bowls on Saturdays in a league, along with others in the PHN's bowling team.
4. Staring down the pins, Justin Guyette ('11), brings intensity to the game. Justin throws a major curve ball, that knocks the pins down powerfully.

1. Performing a perfect spiral, Tessa Dupes ('11), keeps her balance with grace and poise. Tessa Dupes is known for her great ability to concentrate on every move in her performance.

2. Posing before her routine, Tessa Dupes ('11), takes a deep breath before beginning. It is very important to remain collected and calm before competitions.

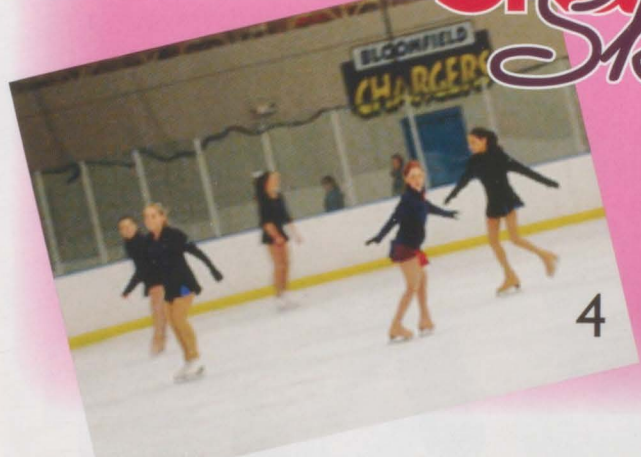

3. Showing off their love for their club, these girls smile brightly. The Port Huron United Skate Team involves girls from different schools.

4. Warming up for their performances, these girls get a feel for the ice. Warming up is very important when it comes to skating.

5. With excellent form, Kirsten Kelly ('12), performs a layback spin. She practices them during the warm-ups so she can perform it perfectly during the competition.

1. Tyler Johnson (12), begins a new face-off. Preparing as a defensive player, Johnson sets up for a good play.

2. Lewis Nowakowski (12) concentrates on waiting for the puck to drop. Lewis is a forward and has been playing hockey for 5 years.

3. Over powering the opposing team with how massive Dillion Pfeifer (12) is on skates. Pfeifer steps up to get the puck that's waiting to be dropped.

4. Making the tough save, Wade Holcomb ('11) protects the net from his opponent's shots. This is Wade's third year on the team.

5. Bobby King (13), stands anxiously for the play to start. King stays fixed on his opponent, watching every move he makes.

Archery

1. Faking out his opponent, Eric Merrill ('11), scores a touch. Fencing, sometimes referred to as "physical chess", involves both mental and physical endurance.
2. Unguard! Dan Case ('11), parries incoming attacks from his opponent. Dan is a saberist, one who slashes his opponent.
3. Shooting archery is a way to earn state medals for Gabrielle ('11), Erin ('13) and Hannah Armstrong. The sisters have been shooting archery together for four years and have made it to the state competition each year.
4. Performing her pom routine, Chelsea Niemietz ('12), punches her hardest for the judges. Chelsea spends a lot of time putting in the effort to improve her dance technique.
5. Practicing, Krysta Pettengill ('10), and Erin Austin ('11) go over their routine. Both Krysta and Erin are very involved at the Dance Academy and spend many hours there throughout the week.
6. Accomplishing her flip, Ellie Kercher ('12), performs her best during her routine. Ellie is a superb gymnast and a member for K-Scope.
7. Displaying their joy, Krysta Pettengill ('10), Sara Hutchinson ('10), and Nicole Bachmann ('13) jump during dance class. These girls are three out of the four girls from Northern that are involved in Dance Academy's production of Step Up 2 this year.
8. Posing for a group shot, the Starlites Senior Dance Team get together before performing their pom routine for the Pistons' halftime show. The Starlites have been state and national champions and were asked this year to perform at halftime for the Detroit Pistons.
9. Dancing to the beat of the music, Ashton Hearn ('10), performs for the judges at the Very Scary GLCC competition at Kalahari in Sandusky, Ohio. Ashton has been a Starlite for 10 years. "I'm very sad this is my last year as a Starlite. The Starlite girls have been a part of my family and we have shared some memorable moments together."

Acknowledgements

The 2009-2010 Yearbook Staff would like to say thank you to those who assisted in making this yearbook a success. To begin, we would like to thank all of our administrators: Mr. Mossett, Mr. Palmer, Mr. Brock, and Mrs. Duman, for being so helpful and understanding throughout the year. We would also like to thank our supportive teacher, Ms. Nielsen, who helped make this yearbook possible. We owe a huge thank you to Mrs. Brennan for handling our finances and helping us fund this year's book. Our gratitude goes out to Mrs. Cassidy, Mrs. Wilton, and Mrs. Cadrette for assisting us in acquiring the information we needed. Thank you to all of the activities advisors, coaches, and teachers for being so cooperative when we needed to get last minute pictures or quotes. In addition, we would also like to thank Mr. Wing and Dr. Lew for helping us with all those technical difficulties! Thank you to Tony Noto, our Herff Jones Representative, for everything! We never could have finished without your guidance and information.

We would also like to thank our local businesses for purchasing ads to help support this year's yearbook, especially Herff Jones and Dr. Easton for buying full page ads. Also, we would like to thank our Senior parents for purchasing senior tributes.

Lastly, the BIGGEST thank you to everyone here at Port Huron Northern-staff, students, and parents- for dealing with our picture taking, question asking, and class disruptions that we asked of you, throughout the year. Thank you!

Colophon

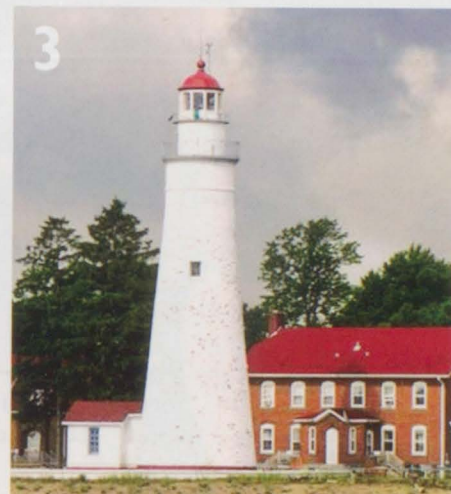

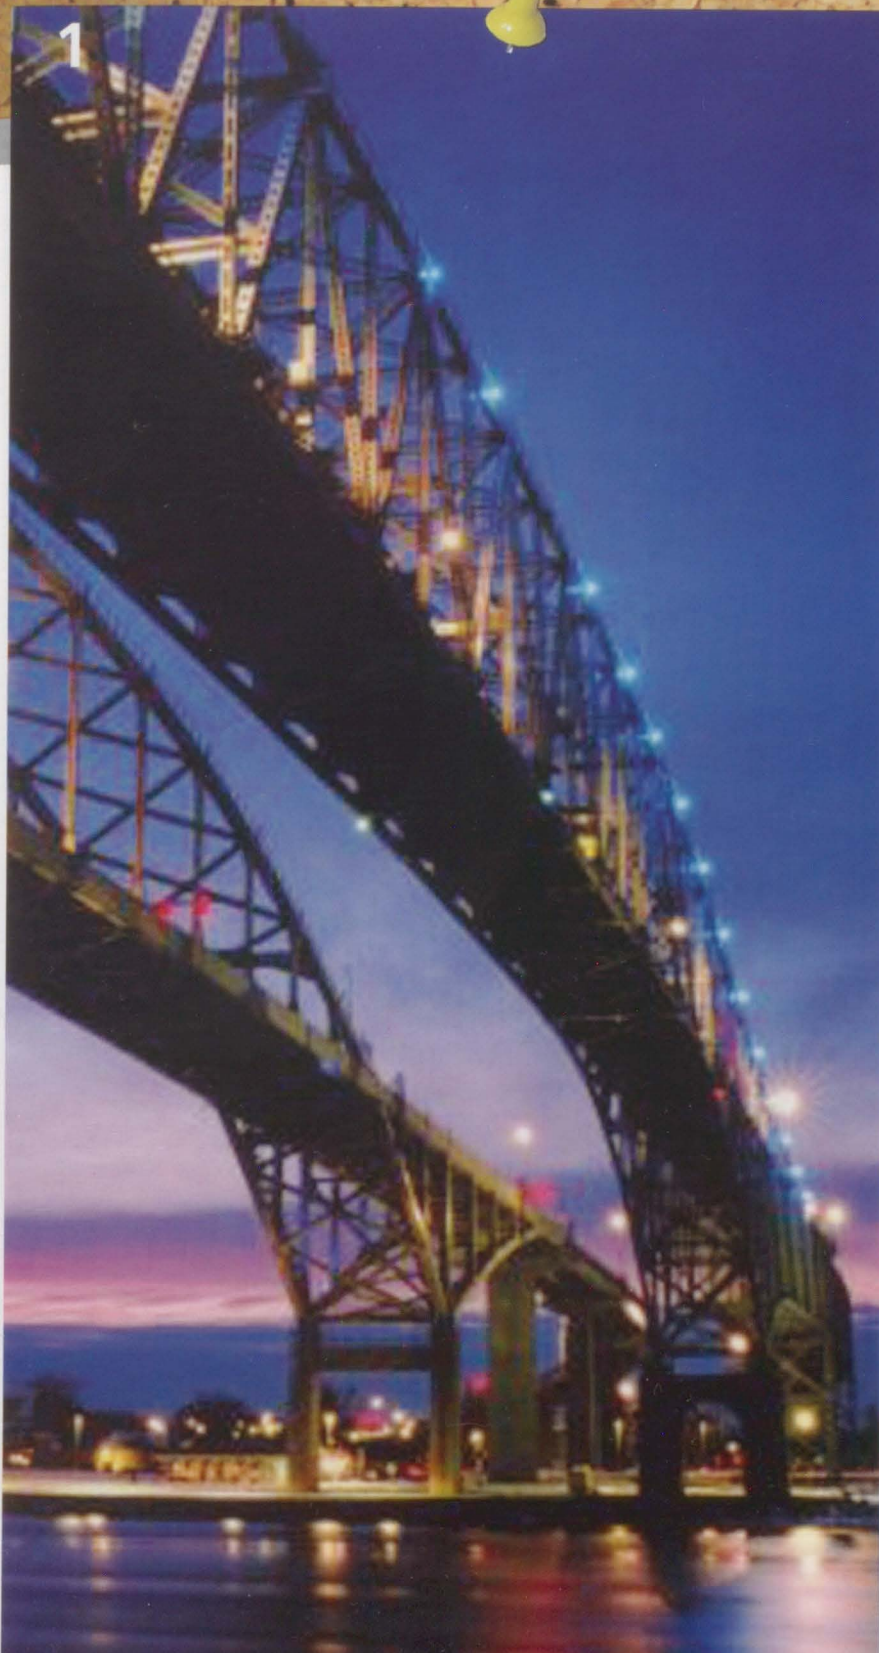

This year's theme "Remember When PHN..." was chosen to capture our moments created here, so that we can look back on them in the future. Some memories we will remember forever, and the ones we will forget will be captured within the pages of this book. This year's yearbook editorial staff consisted of ten editors, including Editor-In-Chiefs Jenna Sparling and Kayla Koppel, and Section Editors Gabrielle Armstrong, Christy Cuthbertson, Ashton Hearn, Sara Hutchinson, Ariel MacDonald, Alaura Martindale, Eric Merrill, and Lauren Roussel, headed by our advisor Kim Nielsen.

The Forty-Fifth Volume to the Spirit collection, created by Port Huron Northern Yearbook and Herff Jones Production Company, was made available to students for $60.00, with all 268 pages created on Adobe InDesign CS2 on 4-color process blends, with the cover being Vista Lithograph, the end sheets Colortext, Natural and the paper stock 80# Bordeaux.

The font used in this year's book is AHJ Arizona and AHJ Chantilly. This yearbook was funded through book and advertisement sales with resources made available by the Port Huron Area School District.

The goal of this year's Spirit staff was to include as many people in the book as possible by including extended coverage such as polls, quotes, and spotlights. This book will forever remind us of what happened while we were here.

BUSINESS

1. The Blue Water Bridge was completed in 1938. It spans 875 feet across the St. Clair River, connecting Port Huron to Sarnia, Ontario.
2. The Huron Lightship was the last lightship on the Great Lakes. It retired from service in 1970, and is located in Pine Grove Park.
3. The Fort Gratiot Lighthouse was built in 1829 and is the oldest lighthouse in Michigan. Its weathered appearance shows its old age and that it has been through many storms.

High School Graduation is one of the milestones in your life. We are very proud of all your accomplishments: maintaining academic honors and playing so many extracurricular activities of AAU basketball, golf, soccer, etc... We are well-pleased of what you have become and have surrounded yourself with so many special friends who have been a part of your success and values. It seems like it was yesterday that you were heading off to Garden's Elementary School. We hope that you enjoyed your years in St. Clair and Northern High School and are excited about your future. We believe in you. We are there to support you. We wish you the best and shine forth in your path to Medicine. Remember, never, never, never give up! We leave you a power of thought for graduation:

"Watch your thoughts, for they become words.
Choose your words, for they become actions.
Understand your actions, for they become habits.
Study your habits, for they become your character.
Develop your character, for it becomes your destiny."

We love you,

Dear Future Readers: We have had the honor of watching Paul Porter, our son, grow in wisdom and stature through the years. All too quickly the years have passed. He has come far in a short 18 years, and we believe he has become a man worth knowing and befriending.

Dear Paul: We are proud of you! We could not have asked for a better son (except for Mikey). We offer you this advice, taken from Proverbs:

Do not let kindness and truth leave you. (3:3)

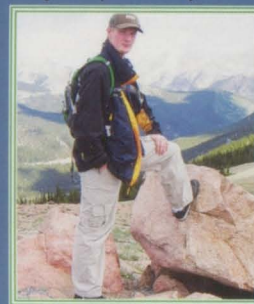

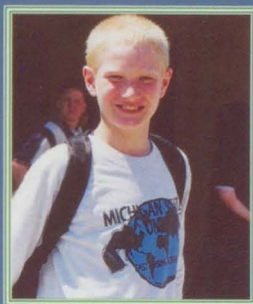

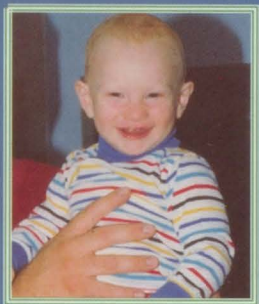

Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not lean on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He will make your paths straight. (3: 5-6)

He who walks with wise men will be wise. (13:20)

How much better it is to get wisdom than gold. (16:16)

Listen to counsel and accept discipline, that you may be wise the rest of your days. (19:20)

With much love and respect,
Mom and Dad

change the lives of those you meet.
May God bless you
as you begin this next chapter in your life.
Love Mom and Joe

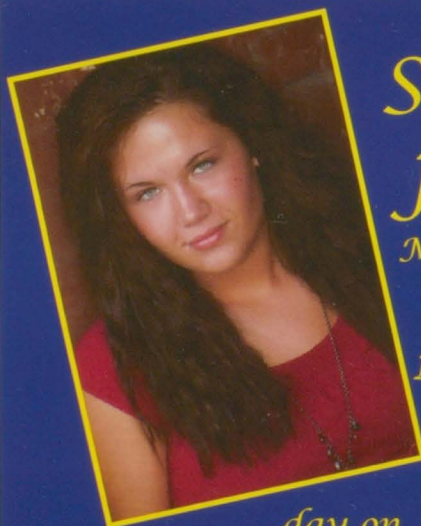

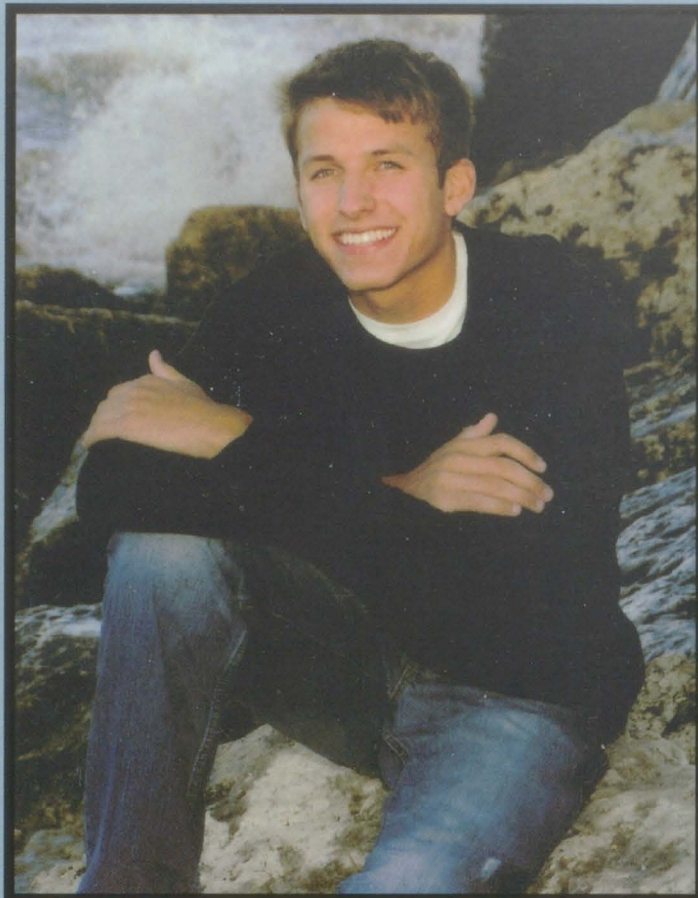

Nathan Langolf

*Congratulations
Nate!*

We are so proud of you.

*Our love always,
Mom, Dad, and Katie*

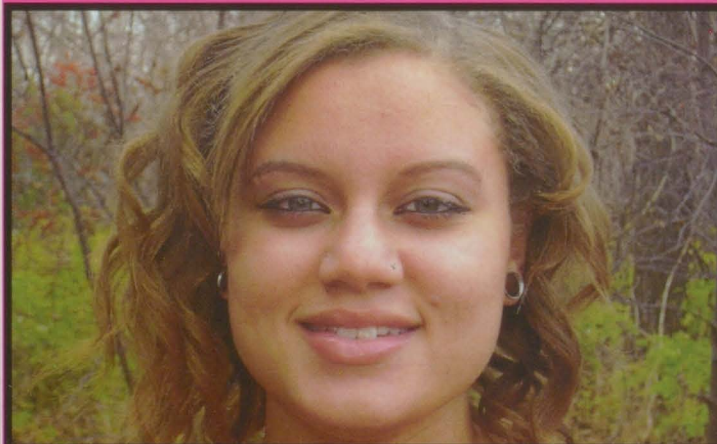

Shantell Johnson

My dearest Shantell,

*I fell in love with you the first moment I saw
you. From that day on, you have always been my beautiful princess, my little genius and my shining star. With your intelligence, your determination, your charisma and your wonderful, warm heart, I know you will be absolutely amazing and successful throughout your life.*

*Love,
Your Mom*

Jensen Malone

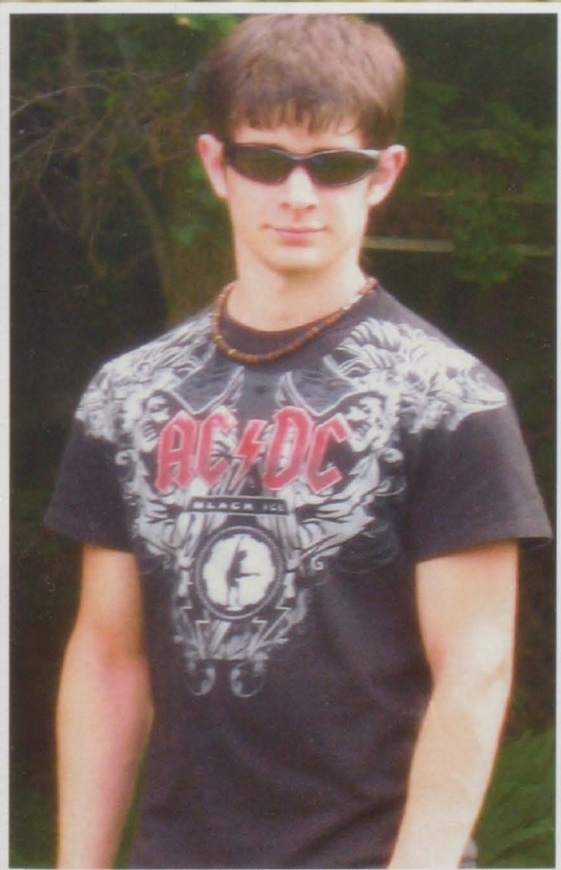

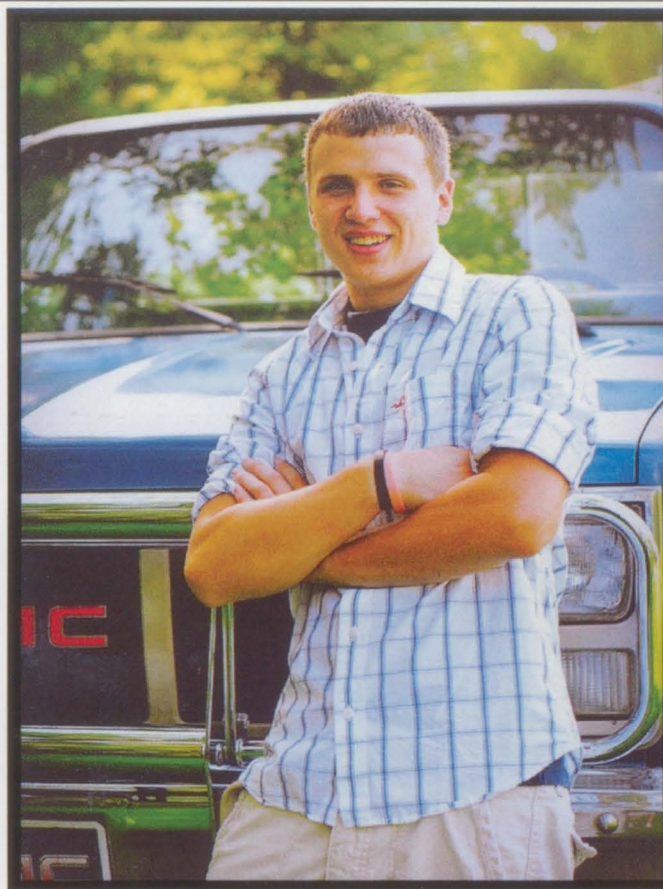

*Well, the time has finally come! You are finally graduating. You went from being a spunky little "chicky", to a beautiful young woman.
You struggled to get to this point and your determination got you here. We are so proud of you and all you've accomplished. May all your dreams come true and all of your goals be met. Daddy would be so proud of his "Pooh."*

*Love,
Mom, Jenny, Donovan, Jayden*

Matthew Warshefski

Congratulations Matthew!
Mom and Dad are very proud of you. You are the best.

All Our Love,
Mom & Dad

Brandon Middleton

Congratulations! We are very proud of you, and wish you happiness in everything you do! Never stop following your dreams.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Austin, Cody, Trevor, & Tyler

*Daddy's are forever, you don't have to see him to know he's here.
In Loving Memory of your Dad, Chris
Sims, 1971-2002*

*I never knew what was coming,
So quick you were here.*

*You brightened up my life.
The day April 6th, 1992 appeared.*

*Not knowing what came next,
Yet it all fell easily into place.*

*The second I saw your little brown eyes.
Your wonderful, beautiful face.*

*In some peoples eyes,
You might have came a bit too soon,
But I would have walked a million miles for you.
I would have walked over the moon.*

*So just as quick as you came,
These years flew right by.*

*Now our little girl is all grown up,
Right before our very own eyes.*

*We love you,
Mom and Dad Gene*

*In May of 1992.
God gave us the brightest angel of all.
He gave us you.*

*Through the years of dance classes, hockey practices, band concerts and your studies, we now take the time to reflect on the beautiful ray of sunshine you are. Remember to be yourself and reach for the stars.
Congratulations we are so proud of you.
May all of your dreams come true.*

Love Mom, Dad, Cara, and Brian.

Branden Hall

*Congratulations Branden!
We are so very proud of you.
We are truly blessed to have you
in our lives!*

We know you will achieve as you are strong, intelligent, and determined!

May you always be happy, healthy, and safe.

Gabrielle Stremers

Seems just like yesterday you were an adorable little girl with your doggy named Oliver, and now you have grown into a beautiful young lady! You must know that we are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments from the theatre stage to the golf course. We are truly blessed to have you in our lives. Your future is endless, always remember we are your biggest fans!

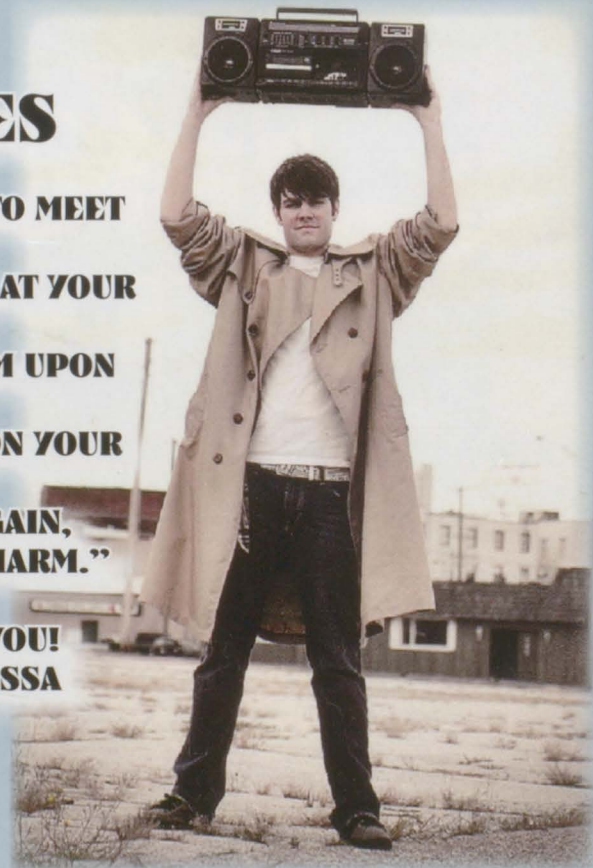

We love you,
Mom, Dad, Jacob, & Gus

Krysta and Franca,

What an amazing senior year! We have been so blessed to have the two of you in our lives.

Krysta - You are truly an amazing young lady with your dedication to school, dance, and the salon. Keep striving to be your best and enjoy your journey in life.

Franca - We are so happy to have you as our German daughter. You have brought many aspects of culture and joy to our home. We will miss you when you go back to Deutschland.

*Love,
Mom, Dad, and Jared*

Fun Fact:

In Zion, Illinois, there is a law that prohibits owners from giving a lit cigar to any of their domesticated animals. While the law specifically names dogs and cats, it also applies to other kinds of pets such as hamsters, rabbits and goldfish. So no matter how much your goldfish shows you his big boggly eyes, you are by law not allowed to fall for it and give him a lit cigar.

I guess you could give him an unlit one, but that kind of takes the fun out of it, now doesn't it?

1. Locking up his Northern memories, Kelson Thomas ('10) gathers his belongings. Kelson was rushing to leave with his laptop to tweet.
2. Exiting the building, Kevin Jackson ('10) walks towards the bus. Most students can't wait for the weekend to hang out with friends.

Remember

When...

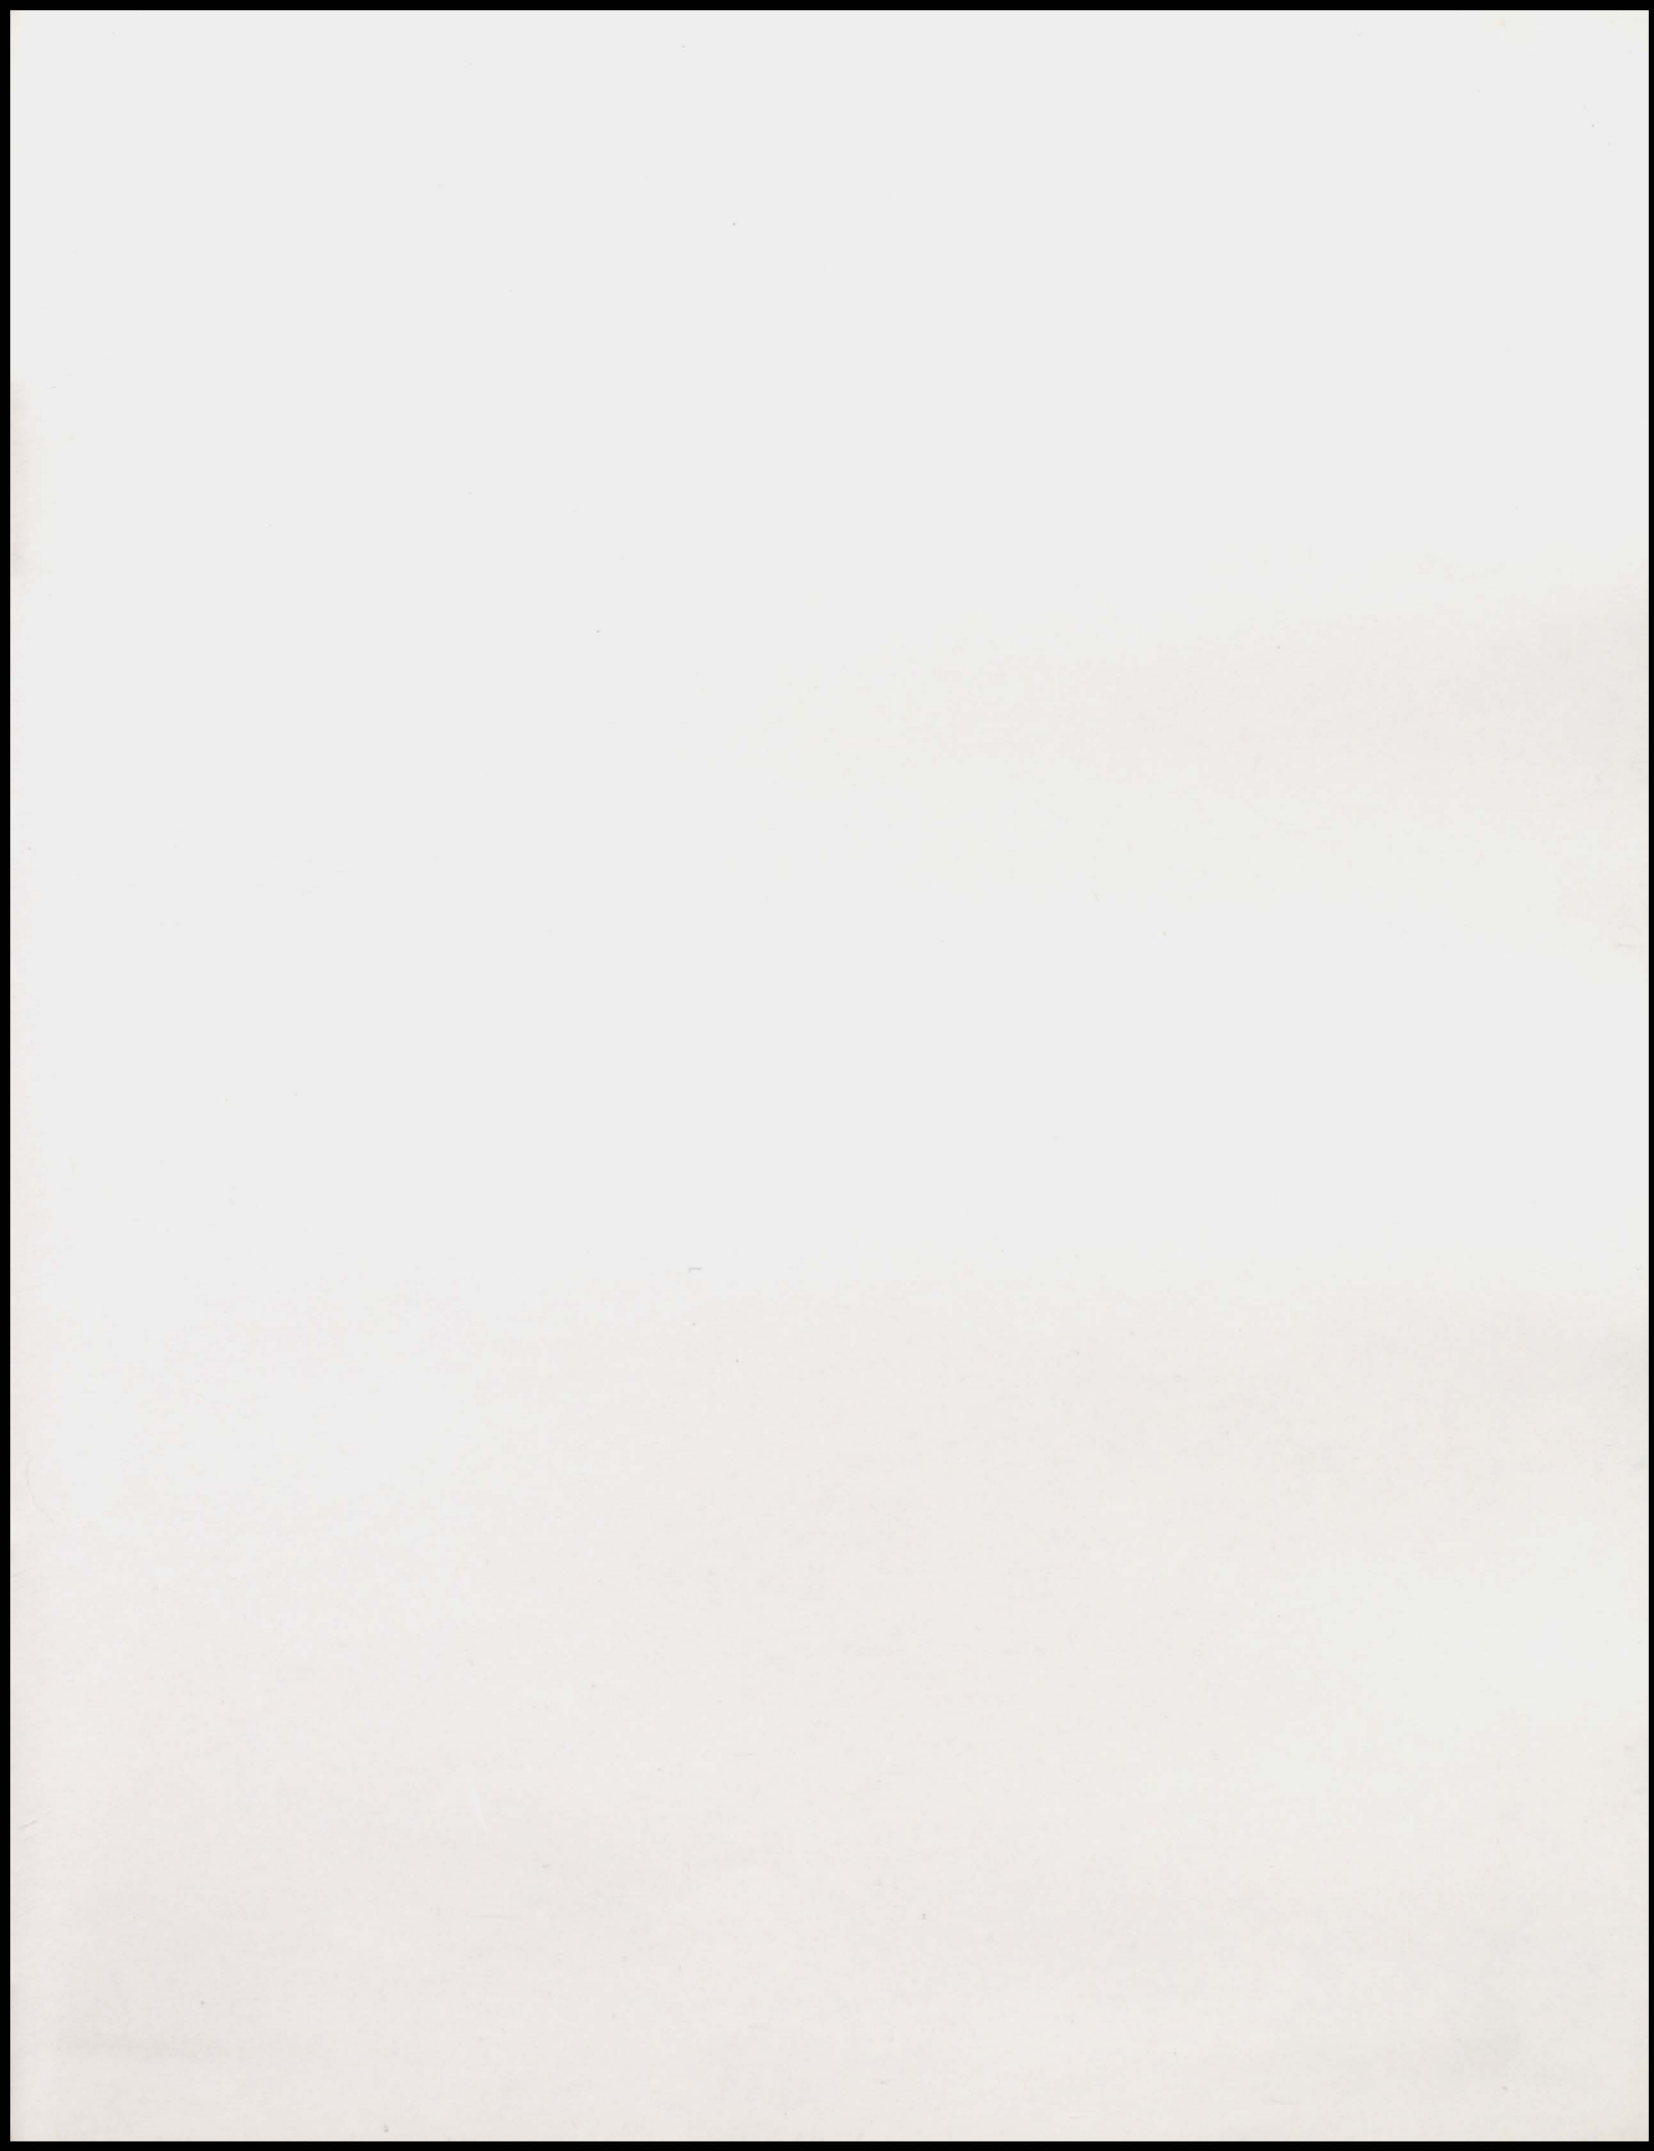

...and ended as a day you will remember.

What do you remember? Each and every day spent here you've created memories, memories that will last a lifetime. Whether they are delightful or unpleasant memories, both have shaped who you are as an individual. They have given you strength and wisdom, made you bold, and gave you confidence. These memories made here, are shared by those whom you will always remember. Senior year is the most anticipated year of high school, looking up to those seniors for so many years; you never did fathom that that was going to be you one day. It certainly was true when they said it was going to go by fast...

Do you remember prom? Spring Break? Sweet 16? Scoring the winning goal? Acing a test? Regardless which memory is your favorite, it's unforgettable. All your memories were shared with those closest. They are the people that will be by your side, that will look at the good and the bad memories you have made together.

When you exited the door at Northern, you left with all the memories made from the day you entered. We have made this year here very memorable. In the future, we have many more memories and relationships to bloom. Regardless of where our lives take us in the upcoming years, we will always remember our time spent at Northern, the memories we have made while we were here, and the friends and the moments we spent with them during these adolescent years. In years to come, looking back, we will always remember how being at Northern has shaped us for our future.
